Ice blankets area

Quad-Cityans awoke this morning to find a sheet of ice covering their cars and the streets.

Many were late to work after taking the approximately 15 minutes to chip the thick ice from car windows and then finding traffic moving slowly on the ice or slush.

All Quad-City area schools were closed because of the ice storm and the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville did not open this morning.

Despite the heavy ice, most Quad-City area streets were slushy, but not ice-covered, by 6 a.m. and few accidents were reported.

The weather forecast called for the icy rain to turn to drizzle by this afternoon with a high in the mid 30s, melting any remaining ice.

Temperatures should climb into the 40s by later tomorrow or Wednesday and remain mild through Thursday night.

Study early retirement cutoff

By BILL WINTER
of the Press-Record

Present early retirement rules of the Granite City school system will have a March 1 cutoff date for applications, if the Board of Education approves a plan recommended by its Policy Committee.

Meeting at 6:30 a.m. Friday at the board office, the committee proposed that "employees eligible for a retirement annuity prior to July 1, 1986, receive health and life insurance benefits as outlined in Policy GAO-R provided they notify the board prior to March 1, 1984.

"The present Policy Rules and Regulations GAO-R will terminate March 1 for future early retirements."

Committee members present along with administrators were Board Secretary Thomas Miotzky, committee chairman, and School Treasurer Kelly Hogan.

A SPECIAL board meeting is planned at 6 p.m. tomorrow to consider the recommendation.

Purpose of the cutoff will be to encourage employees considering early retirements in 1984, 1985 and 1986 to make their plans known and definite.

If honorable dismissals of staff members are necessary March 20 for the 1984-85 year, the dismissal list can either be avoided or reduced by the extent of future retirements. Remaining unchanged is the basic retirement policy that went into effect Jan. 1, 1979.

"The retirement age of all employees of Compulsory Unit School District No. 9 shall be 70 years. Earlier retirement may be required because of mental or physical infirmities that are medically substantiated.

"EMPLOYEES ATTAINING the age of 70 during any fiscal year may continue employment until the end of that fiscal year. Each fiscal year begins July 1 and ends June 30.

"Only in the event that no adequate replacement can be located may the administration recommend to the Board of Education the extension of employment beyond the age of 70 years."

For all who have scheduled early retirements or who choose to do so before March 1, those retiring prior to age 65 are eligible to participate in the school district's health and life insurance plan.

Rules adopted in 1981 relate that a retired certificated employee participates at board expense if he or

Maragides out of March race

By SUSAN SIGNAIGO-WEICH
of the Press-Record

Attorney Steve Maragides of Granite City announced Thursday his withdrawal from the race for the Democratic nomination to run for state's attorney. This leaves Richard Allen, also an attorney in Granite City, the sole Democratic candidate for the office.

"I withdrew because of the difficulty I would have defeating the Madison County Democratic Central Committee (which is supporting Allen)," Maragides told the Press-Record Friday. "I've run against the Democratic committee's choice several times in the past and I know what the obstacles are. I'm not anxious to try running against them again."

He said he thought to continue to run would be "throwing away" his money.

MARAGIDES RAN as a candidate in the Democratic primary for Madison County state's attorney office in 1976 against the then incumbent, Nicholas G. Byron, now an associate judge. Maragides also ran unsuccessfully in 1978, this time against State Senator Sam Vadalabene (D-Edwardsville) for the state Senate.

"I still have hopes to run for other offices in the future," said Maragides. "What offices I would specifically run for are hard to say, but I would probably not run against an incumbent again for the Democratic nomination."

Maragides, resident of Granite City, attended Madison schools and graduated from Northwestern University Journalism School and the University of Illinois College of Law.

MARAGIDES SAID he will support Allen in the primary in March and the general election in November.

Allen said Friday he is happy about Maragides' decision to withdraw. "I'm really pleased about it, because now it frees me to work towards the fall election, instead of putting all my efforts on the March election," he said.

"I think this withdrawal will really help me. Now I can concentrate on working to defeat Reagan (the Republican party)," Allen said.

ALLEN SERVED as an assistant state's attorney under Dick Mudge, Joseph Bartylak and Nicholas Byron. He is a former city attorney for Granite City and served as a staff attorney in the Madison County public defender's office from 1972 to 1980.

Allen is a graduate of Illinois College and St. Louis University School of Law. A veteran of World War II, he served with the 13th Armored Division of the U.S. Army in France, Germany and Austria, seeing action with General George Patton's Third Army.

He is a member of the Board of Directors for Coordinated Youth, the Tri-City Bar Association, the Madison County Bar Association and First Presbyterian Church in Granite City.

Fire destroys Mitchell lumber yard

By VALERIE EVENDEN
of the Press-Record

Duffin Bros. Lumber Co., 739 E. Chain of Rocks Road, was totally demolished by "a very hot and intense" fire which started at 2:55 a.m. Friday and continued to burn until late that afternoon.

Firefighters from the Mitchell Volunteer Fire Department, assisted by Long Lake Fire Department volunteers, pumped water on the devastated building and lumber yard for a total of 13 hours, remaining there until 4 p.m. Friday.

Mitchell firemen also returned to the scene Saturday to extinguish several hot spots, according to Mitchell Fire Chief Lee Paul.

"Estimated loss cannot yet be determined as a lot of the business records burned up in the fire," the official said. He agreed, however, the total loss probably will run into "hundreds of thousands of dollars."

Three large forklift trucks used to lift building supplies and lumber, another big truck and a smaller truck were inside the structure at the time of the blaze and were destroyed, the fire chief explained. "About the only thing standing is some corrugated metal sheets in the back and they are all bent and twisted," he said.

The Mitchell Fire Department was called by William Schaefer, who lives across Chain of Rocks Road from the lumber firm and saw the blaze when he got up to go to work.

By the time Mitchell firefighters arrived, the building was fully engulfed with flames burning through the roof, Paul said.

Origin of the blaze also has not yet been decided. "Right now, we don't know if it was the furnace or what caused it," the fire chief said. However, it appeared the fire may have started in the center of the building, it was learned.

Arson is not suspected, Paul said, but an evaluation by the Madison County Arson Investigation team was requested and an inspection was made of the ruined building.

Twenty Mitchell firemen fought the blaze with Long Lake Fire Department contributing "quite a few men, two pumps and a portable pump," Paul advised. "We must have had about 35 men at the scene," the fire chief estimated.

The stubborn 13-hour fire was fought while the thermometer stood in the sub-zero and near-zero range and the wind chill factor plunged the air temperature far below zero.

Speaking of the bone-chilling weather, Chief Paul commented, "It was pretty disagreeable, but we didn't have any injuries or any frostbite cases."

Supporting the firefighters were members of the Mitchell Firemen's Auxiliary, who provided hot coffee and sandwiches for the men. The auxiliary, consisting mainly of wives and families of the firefighters, "opened up the Mitchell water office and gave us a place we could get warm, which we really appreciated," Paul said.

Duffin Bros. Lumber is owned by Fred H. Duffin and Ed D. Duffin, with the latter serving as general manager. Until recent years, the family also operated a lumber firm in Madison.

County is urged to hike sewer rates

Granite City is considering legal action to make county sewer bills reflect a rate increase city residents have been paying since last summer.

County residents served by the Madison County Special Sewer District are currently being spared an additional $5 quarterly charge that the Granite City Council approved for its residents last July. A retroactive clause made part of that rate hike effective for services provided here since May.

CITY ATTORNEY John Papa told aldermen last week that the city feels inclined at this point to seek "legal remedies" to have the county bills adjusted.

The lingering issue had been revived at the last two council meetings by Second Ward Alderman Sam Whitmer. He is upset that county residents continue to pay $13 each quarter to the city for basic treatment service, while city residents pay $18 for the same service.

(The county currently pays Granite City $18-per-quarter for each of its more than 3,000 users—including a $13 basic treatment fee and a $5 debt service charge. County residents also pay a fee to the county sewer district for a total monthly service charge of $14.80, plus a yearly property tax assessment to repay the bonds sold to finance sewer construction. The requested hike by Granite City would raise county bills about $1.66 per month.)

THE LACK OF patience expressed by the city apparently caught Morris Miles, chairman of the county sewer committee, by surprise. According to him, the city had not shown an immediate interest in tackling on the higher charge. In fact, he said, Marshall "Zeke" Smith, assistant state's attorney handling rate talks for the county, had to send a letter last fall to Granite City asking about the new city rates after the city failed to contact the county. The county then received a response from Papa explaining the situation.

Papa told aldermen that Smith has been difficult to reach the last two months. The city attorney said he finally left a message with County Auditor Peter Fields to advise Smith to act on the matter.

The county is definitely ready to discuss the situation, Miles said, rather than see the rate adjustment become a legal matter. "We've been ready to (talk) for a long time," he said. "We're the ones that sent the letter."

THE COUNTY sewer chairman, however, is not supporting a rate hike for county users. "I don't think we are bound to it (new rate)... didn't have an input into setting up the rates and the council didn't confer with us."

Anti-abortion priest is jailed again

Almost six years to the day of his first arrest outside the Hope Clinic for Women, 1602 Twenty-first Street, the Reverend Edwin F. Arentsen was again arrested in the parking lot the clinic Friday morning.

The Roman Catholic priest, formerly a pastor of a Belleville Diocese parish, was arrested on a state charge of criminal trespass to property at 10 a.m. Friday. Prior to his arrest, the priest said, "I'm not going to blow this place up, I just want another trial."

THE REVEREND Arentsen visited Chief of Police Ronald Veltzer at the Granite City Police Station prior to going to the Hope Clinic, where he confronted at least two couples and several women, on both the public sidewalk and clinic property, before they entered the building.

A female security guard, hired by the clinic for a security service in Belleville, attempted to intervene when the priest approached patients trying to enter the building. She repeatedly asked the priest to leave the clinic property to no avail. She then went into the clinic and had an employee summon police.

The pro-life priest held photos of aborted fetuses in front of pedestrians and tried to persuade them from entering the abortion clinic, where he says from 75 to 100

HMOs offer alternative to traditional medical insurance

In the United States today, one of every 10 dollars is spent on health care. In 1970, the cost of health care in the U.S. was more than 74 billion dollars, an average of $56 for every man, woman and child in the nation. By 1981, the cost had risen to more than $286 billion, or $1,225 for each American citizen.

Because of these soaring costs, the delivery of health care in this country is beginning to change. One of the changes is the establishment of Health Maintenance Organizations (HMOs).

There are variations, but basically an HMO is a group of people who pay a fixed monthly fee to a group of physicians. The physicians, in turn, guarantee to provide all necessary health services to those enrolled in the HMO.

There are several differences between an HMO and the more traditional forms of medical insurance, but one of the most important is that, in an HMO, more emphasis is placed on preventing illness. Staying well means that people need less medication, make fewer visits to the doctor and spend fewer days in the hospital. As a result, health care costs are 10 to 40 percent lower for HMO members than for people with more traditional medical insurance. HMO members actually spend less time as hospital in-patients than other people. In 1980, members of traditional health insurance plans had a hospitalization rate of 726 days per 1,000 members, but the HMO rate was only 418 days per 1,000 members—more than 300 days less than other health insurance plans.

HMOs have a variety of organizational arrangements and each HMO is unique. But there are three basic models: the staff, the group and individual practice association.

In the staff model, physicians work in a group-practice health center owned by the HMO. They are paid a set salary out of a monthly premium paid by subscribers. In the staff model, the physicians are actually employees of the HMO.

Physicians involved in a group practice may enter into an agreement to provide services to HMO members, or the HMO members may help form their own group of physicians. In either case, the physicians accept a per-member, per-month fee as the principal form of payment and they then assume the responsibility of providing medical services to the HMO subscribers.

The third model is the Individual Practice Association, which is simply a mechanism whereby an individual doctor can practice in an HMO while still continuing to practice in his own office or setting.

Proponents of HMO's claim that the main advantages of HMO membership are the predictability of health-care costs and the access to both routine and specialized medical care. The monthly premium is the same, no matter how many times a member visits the doctor or utilizes the service. Also HMO benefits are generally more extensive than those offered by traditional health insurance plans.

The Illinois Department of Public Health, office of Health Planning, recently completed a 25-page report on HMOs in Illinois. It outlines services provided by HMOs, the advantages and disadvantages of HMO membership and other facts consumers should know about Health Maintenance Organizations.

Persons desiring a copy of this report, may get one free of charge by contacting the Office of Health Planning, 525 W. Jefferson, Springfield, Ill., 62761.

DAV re-elects Andrew Gitchoff

Andrew Gitchoff was re-elected commander of Quad-Cities Chapter 53, Disabled American Veterans, at the January meeting, and will serve with others elected, Rolland Fiedler, senior vice commander, Lawrence McGuire, junior vice commander, Joseph Hefferly, treasurer and George Lipscomb, chaplain.

Gitchoff said that during 1984 his main goal will be to co-operate with National Headquarters in achieving their goal of one million members nationally and state headquarters goal of 500 members for Chapter 53 by 1985.

He explained, "that men we need to recruit an additional 100 members by June 1985 plus one additional member for each member lost by death, transfer, etc. Every member is urged to carry or have a membership application near by to sign up any veteran they know to be eligible and for the chapter's membership recruits who have been furnished names to eligible veterans by National Headquarters, to contact those veterans as soon as possible. We will also be working with our hospital chairman and our auxiliary in visiting veterans in VA Hospitals during the 'Salute to Hospitalized Veterans' week of Feb. 14th."

"This program is sponsored by Harry N. Walters, VA Administrator, and it is supported by both our state and national organizations. The local chapter will be distributing posters and brochures and will submit information to local newspapers to promote public participation in this event," he said.

Larry Lockhart reported that Eben Curtright is still recuperating at home and Roscoe Terry was hospitalized but has been released and is home. He also reported that Robert Pine has retired from his service officers job at John Cochran VA Hospital but he will still assist any veteran in need of service or hospitalization.

Joe Hefferly read correspondence from David V. Hardwick, Director of the Department of Veterans Affairs, that Gov. Thompson had reappointed Past Department Commander D. Ray Wilson to the Illinois Veterans Advisory Council.

George Cummins was accepted as a new member and there were no deaths during the month according to Hefferly.

Lunch was served after the meeting to those in attendance.

Growth in area business activity

Business volume on Mastercard and Visa charge cards in the Midwest, including metropolitan St. Louis, showed substantial growth during 1983, setting new records for the full year and the December Christmas period.

Combined sales for the year totaled $2,858,017,000, up 25 percent over the $2,281,159,000 recorded in 1982. The number of individual card holder transactions—retail sales and bank cash advances—kept pace, increasing 21 percent to 70,519,000 from 58,317,000 in 1982.

For December, dollar volume was $373,983,000, the largest volume month in the area's history and a 23 percent increase over $304,163,000 in December 1982.

Transactions in December increased 16 percent to 8,576,000 from 7,405,000 a year earlier.

The record-setting regional business volume was reported by Credit Systems Incorporated, the operating center for Mastercard and Visa in the five-state area of Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, Iowa and Kentucky.

The region includes more than 67,000 merchant outlets and 2.6 million card holders.

3 CHARGES AFTER CRASH WITH COUNTY PATROL CAR

David L. Heath, 4233 Highway 162, was charged with driving while under the influence of alcohol, passing a red stoplight and failing to reduce speed to avoid a crash at 11:10 p.m. Thursday as he drove north on Nameoki Road and made a right turn onto Johnson Road.

The front of Heath's pickup truck hit the front of a Madison County patrol car driven by Deputy Bruce Trotts, 34, Edwardsville. Trotts, who had halted in order to turn left into a service station, received minor injuries.

Diabetes diet methods differ

By W. L. KEMPINERS
Ill. Public Health Director

The medical profession has known for some time that treatment of diabetes requires changes in other things, dietary control.

Now the nutrition committees of the American, British and Canadian Diabetes Associations unanimously recommend decreasing the fat and salt content and increasing the carbohydrate-with-fiber content in diabetic meal plans.

There is also agreement that the diet principles for the two major classes of diabetes should differ.

No diet will cure diabetes. It can be controlled by diet and exercise, and by insulin, if required. But once diabetes develops, it lasts throughout life.

Diabetes mellitus is a condition in which the body cannot make full use of food—especially sugar and starches. This is because of a lack of insulin action. As a result, too much sugar accumulates in the blood.

Insulin is a natural substance which is formed by the pancreas. If the pancreas does not produce enough insulin, or if the insulin is not doing its job, then the build up of sugar in the blood may cause permanent damage to the body, or even death.

The excess sugar in the blood spills over into the urine instead of being metabolized by the body for its energy needs. When the body cannot get the energy it needs from carbohydrates and sugar, it draws energy by burning fats.

Not every diabetic has to take insulin. There are two types of diabetes: Type I's, who are insulin dependent, and Type II's, who are usually obese and non-insulin-dependent.

Insulin-dependent diabetes usually occurs in children and young adults. Non-insulin-diabetes usually occurs after the age of 30 and is commonly called "adult-onset" diabetes.

The treatment for the two types of diabetes is different. In Type I diabetes, dietary control focuses on supplying enough energy to insure normal growth and weight maintenance in adulthood.

The intake of calories is synchronized with the action of the insulin. This is accomplished by keeping the time, number and composition of meals consistent from day to day.

About 80 percent of Type II diabetes is obese. These diabetics are treated by restricting their food intake so that they lose weight.

If the diabetic person loses the excess weight and keeps it off, he may never experience diabetic symptoms again.

In lean Type II diabetes, the emphasis is on small, frequent feedings, low in saturated fat and high in complex carbohydrates, and regular exercise.

This differs from the diet for the obese in that the obese diet is low in calorie intake, with the composition of the diet of secondary importance. The new recommendations stress the desirability of less saturated fats and more starch in the diets of the obese and Type II diabetic.

There is increasing emphasis on the importance of eating more complex carbohydrate-with-fiber, such as whole grain breads, fresh fruits and vegetables, and less salt.

Before going on any diet, including one that restricts the intake of salt, please check with your doctor. This is especially important if you are a diabetic.

It is possible that you might have other medical problems that would require a very well-controlled diet. The decision to diet and the type of diet should be made only by your doctor or by a dietitian at his recommendation.

Charge driver with DUI, leaving scene

The driver of a white station wagon, who allegedly left the scene of an accident in which a woman was injured last week, was tracked down and arrested at his home soon after the incident occurred.

Turrell X. Holloway, 31, of 4781 Warnock Ave. was taken into custody there and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and leaving the scene of an accident.

The mishap occurred on Maryville Road at Terminal Avenue, where a vehicle operated by Wayne Young, 76, of 657 Barkley St., Mitchell, was halted at a stop sign and was struck from the rear by a white station wagon that left the scene, reports said.

Mrs. Avalon L. Young, 64, of the Barkley address, a passenger, was injured in the crash and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

A license number was obtained by a passerby and the vehicle was seen heading west on Terminal, north on Saratoga, then north on Maryville Road and was found in the driveway at Holloway's house.

At police headquarters, Holloway agreed to take a breathalyzer test and was released at 5:35 p.m. Tuesday upon posting his driver's license and a $102 cash bond.

A.O. Smith strong rebound in sales, earnings

A.O. Smith Corporation has reported a strong rebound in sales and earnings in 1983 over recession impacted results in 1982.

Thomas I. Dolan, president and chief executive officer, said sales in 1983 were up 23 percent over 1982 to $853.4 million and that earnings went from a $16.8 million loss in 1982 to a profit of $13.6 million for the year just ended.

Dolan said the turnaround was led by the automotive business which prospered, along with the automotive industry as a whole.

"While we have achieved what I consider a significant improvement over 1982," Dolan said, "we need to more than double our earnings to reach a satisfactory level of profitability."

The company's 1983 sales of $853,372,000 were the highest in its history and compare with sales in 1982 of $694,192,000. In 1982, A.O. Smith reported a loss of $16,761,000, or $2.28 per share, compared with a profit in 1983 of $13,626,000, or $1.85 per share.

For the fourth quarter A.O. Smith had sales of $213,906,000 and earnings of $6,055,000, or 82-cents per share compared with sales of $161,662,000 and a loss of $3,382,000, or 46-cents per share, in the same period in 1982.

The key to A.O. Smith's resurgence in 1983 was clearly the automotive business, Dolan said, although several other units, including its water heater manufacturing business and its computer services company, contributed to the profit improvement. On the negative side, Dolan said the company's farm equipment subsidiary, A.O. Smith Harvestore Products, Inc., has a disappointing year with sales behind 1982 levels and a larger loss than the prior year.

The A.O. Smith Automotive Products Company is North America's largest manufacturer of automobile and truck frames, as well as other structural products for the automotive industry. Its sales in 1983 exceeded $500 million for the first time as American consumers shifted their buying preference to larger cars which use A.O. Smith products. Of the 10 top-selling cars in the U.S. in 1983, four were built with frames manufactured by A.O. Smith and a fifth utilized rear trailing axles manufactured by the company. During 1983, the company's automotive structure plant in Milwaukee added more than 700 new employees to help keep up with demand.

The A.O. Smith Water Products Company reported a slight gain in sales in 1983 over 1982, but a significant improvement in profits. This was the first profitable year for this manufacturer of water heating equipment since 1979. Strong cost-cutting measures, a shift of production to lower-cost facilities and improved pricing helped the turnaround.

Both the Applied Electric Products Company and the Electric Motor Company experienced black demand during most of 1983 but new orders showed a decided upturn in the fourth quarter. Sales at these units, which manufacture electric motors used in air conditioning, refrigeration, air movement and water pumping applications, are influenced by residential and commercial construction activity.

A.O. Smith Harvestore Products continues to suffer from high real interest rates which, when combined with the national surplus in dairy products, the 1983 government PIK grain program and the severe drought which pushed livestock production costs upward, have discouraged livestock farmers from investing in capital equipment. As a consequence, sales fell to their lowest point in many years and the subsidiary suffered a large loss in 1983.

Other factors affecting 1983 earnings include a significant currency translation gain related to a Mexican affiliate, compared with a loss from that unit in 1982, and substantially lower interest costs in 1983.

A.O. Smith, with its subsidiaries and affiliates, is a diversified manufacturer. Its product lines include electric motors, agricultural feed storage and handling systems, auto and truck structural components, water heating equipment, fiberglass reinforced plastic piping systems, computer services and software, and agricultural financing.

Arson blamed in fire at home

An arson investigation was started Thursday by Granite City police in connection with a Nov. 27 fire in a residence at 3024 Circle Drive.

Firemen and police were unaware of the blaze at the time it occurred; no reports of it exist, officers said. Analysis of debris from the scene indicates gasoline was present and ignited, rapidly spreading the flames.

The investigation is continuing.

HURT ON MADISON AVENUE

Weeks, 18, of 2708 Edwards St. turned his southbound car left to go from Madison Avenue to 30th Street Thursday, its right front collided with the front of the northbound auto of Marvin E. Kinworthy, Kinworthy, 59, of 2610 Propes St. sustained injuries and was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center. Weeks was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way.

Labor Department publishes guide to assist cities facing plant closings

A new booklet suggesting various actions that can be taken by local leaders and organizations in communities faced with plant closings or major layoffs of workers has been published by the U. S. Department of Labor.

The 69-page booklet, "Plant Closing Checklist: A Guide to Best Practice," details various actions that can be taken to prevent or reduce the impact of worker dislocation and identifies key sources of community and government support for workers facing layoffs due to plant closings.

The booklet suggests that major emphasis be placed on labor and management working together to help affected workers get new jobs before their plant actually closes. Advance notice to affected workers, formation of in-plant joint labor-management placement committees and a job search assistance program can help cushion the impact of worker dislocations, the booklet says. Many of these efforts should be coordinated with community response measures under the Job Training Partnership Act, which allows states to apply for federal funds to assist dislocated workers.

The five sections of the booklet are in the form of checklists for key local government officials, member of in-plant labor-management committees, plant managers, union officials and employment service personnel. Each section lists state and federal government programs providing specific types of assistance to dislocated workers.

An appendix gives detailed information about each government assistance program including who qualified for benefits or services, how to apply for them and the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of organizations to contact for aid.

A second appendix contains five case studies illustrating how labor, management and government worked together to mitigate the effects of actual layoffs or plant closings.

The booklet is available from the Division of Cooperative Labor-Management Programs, Room N5677, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., 20216. The division was created to encourage and assist employers and unions to undertake joint efforts to improve productivity and enhance the quality of working life.

For more information about the Plant Closing Checklist, other publications of the division or cooperative labor-management activities of the division, interested persons may contact Division of Cooperative Labor-Management Programs, Room N5677, U. S. Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., 20216, telephone 1-202-523-6098.

UW welcomes new director tonight

The Tri-Cities Area United Way will conduct its annual business meeting at 6:30 tonight at Charlie's Restaurant.

The meeting will not only mark the conclusion of the 1983 campaign, but it will also allow the formal introduction of the agency's new executive director, Janet Quarton.

"I'M EXCITED about getting to meet everyone," said Miss Quarton.

"Although I'm still in the learning process with my position, I'm very excited about it and I hope to make a positive contribution to the community."

"I was very happy to be selected for this position and so far all of the people I have met in Granite City have been very cordial and have welcomed me."

"I really haven't made any big plans for the agency yet, because I am still researching what the other executive directors have done. I plan to learn this before I talk about any changes."

THE BUSINESS meeting will follow dinner and will be hosted by United Way President Bill Terrell. Entertainment for the evening will be performed by Capt. John Apperson of the Granite City Police Department, who will display his magic tricks. Singing will be performed by Cathy and Mary Turk.

Awards also will be presented at the meeting, honoring those who are retiring from the agency or from certain positions.

AFTER THE regular meeting, the Nominating Committee will elect new board members and the board will vote on United Way officers for the upcoming year.

GC to update zoning ordinance

The Granite City Plan Commissioners have taken tentative steps to update and rewrite certain sections of the city's two-year-old zoning law. They made their decision, after being faced with situations not covered by the current law.

Among the revisions being considered are:

— Rezoning and redrawing the boundaries for the downtown area.

— Eliminating duplicate listings in the zoning law, which, for example, gives separate listing for dairy, milk and ice cream products.

— Including businesses not currently listed in the current law, such as separate categories for new and used car lots.

— Creating a place in the zoning law for older commercial buildings located in residential districts and making a survey of all such structures.

As a result, commissioners called on representatives of the Southwest Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission (SIMAPC) for advice. Crow told commissioner that many of their problems are similar to those faced by other communities. "It's almost impossible to list all issues in your (any) particular ordinance."

According to Crow, zoning issues change so rapidly that the city's relatively new ordinance is already overdue for the update. The SIMAPC spokesman said he had noticed 50 "funny little quirks" in the law. Commissioner Roy McGee suggested that the zoning law be given an annual review.

"I think we're all in accord that something should be done," Morgan said.

The current law had been written after a series of public meetings and heated debates involving the commissioners and local real estate salesmen. The ordinance had been written by SIMAPC.

When questioned about what happened, Henderson allegedly answered with obscene language. He was advised he would have to leave city hall and return to his residence but he refused to, again allegedly yelling obscenities.

Henderson was then placed under arrest for disorderly conduct.

DOC seeks gamebird bands

SPRINGFIELD—Illinois hunters who bag pheasant or quail that have been banded as part of the Conservation Department's cooperative quail and pheasant program are asked to return either the bands or the information on the bands to the Department of Conservation, according to Terry Musser, DOC wildlife biologist.

Bands or information should be sent to: Terry Musser, Department of Conservation, Division of Fish and Wildlife, 524 S. Second St., Springfield, IL 62706.

Bands are banded and released by sportsmen's clubs participating in the cooperative program this year bear the abbreviation: "CC-83, RPT, Dept. Cons. Sprd., IL." (Return Department of Conservation, Springfield, Illinois). The band also bears a serial number.

If the hunter chooses to send only the information to the Department, they should include the serial number. Other important items include: name and address of the hunter who bagged the bird, date taken, and location (distance and direction from the nearest town). Musser added the Department also is interested in obtaining the same information regarding banded birds that perished as road kills or by means other than hunting.

News notes

James Pinson, Terminal Railroad Association corporate secretary, said Friday that early phases of regional rail yard modernization will proceed in the 1980s, including replacement of eight control towers with a remote-control computerized system. But expansion of Madison freight car switching may not be needed due to efficiencies related to railroad mergers. And instead of replacing the Merchants Bridge in Venice, construction of new approaches to it may get priority. The TRRA has decided against applying for $8 million in low-interest federal loans and will use a $20 million loan and $5 million grant appropriated by Congress; instead, it will use private financing.

Members of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees have approved a three-year Illinois state government wage pact; raises total 12.2 percent and will cost $90 million.

The Illinois Supreme Court ruled Friday that the system of selling tax-delinquent real estate does not violate the rights of mortgage holders and others. The decision clears the way for sales in Madison County and elsewhere.

St. Louis-Chicago travel by Midway Airlines will include smoke-free flights this week. Passengers on each no-smoking flight will be asked to indicate whether they favor it.

BI-21 buses in July-December 1983 had 22.1 million passengers, compared to an expected total of 23.1 million.

Congress will ask this year to provide funds to construct a second lock at the Alton lock and dam replacement project.

Michael and Barbara were the most frequently sought names for seven-digit Illinois license plates. Michael Brenner, Kankakee, and Barbara Dobbins of Chicago were picked for such plates during last week's license request lottery.

State lottery sales nearly doubled in the second quarter of the fiscal year, Oct. 1-Dec. 31, compared to the same quarter a year ago. Prizes paid to winners tripled.

The state is testing food products available in groceries to determine if there are any significant levels of EDB, but the results are expected to show there is no hazard. Ethylene dibromide has caused cancer in laboratory animals.

BURGILARS LOOT SAFE AT GC BUSINESS FIRM Between $1,200 and $1,500 was taken from a large metal combination safe and file box at Cardin Carpets, 1900 State St., Ed Cardin reported at 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

The burglars entered through a rear door, which had been boarded up since a Jan. 19 break-in at the firm.

On inside the building, the intruders dragged the safe from near the front of the store to a rear office area, where it was forced open by using an axe, and the money was taken.

WALLET TAKEN FROM CAR A billfold containing a driver's license, a bank card, check cashing card and assorted papers was stolen from the auto of Andrew J. Mance, 2631 Madison Ave., who found the doors unlocked and the vehicle ransacked last week. The car was parked at the rear of his residence, he told police. The cards later were recovered.

GRAB COATS FROM RACK Two black men grabbed several winter coats from a rack and ran out the door at Tractor's Men's Store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center at 1 p.m. Friday. Merchandise was being inventoried to determine how many coats were stolen by the pair.

Clarence Fulkerson dies in Pocahontas

Clarence L. Fulkerson, 67, of Pocahontas, Ill., a retired Granite City Steel employee, died at 11:30 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 19, 1984, at his home.

Born in Depot, Ky., Mr. Fulkerson formerly resided in St. Jacob. His wife, the former Grace Lear, died Nov. 19, 1973.

Prior to retiring in 1978, Mr. Fulkerson was employed 30 years at Granite City. He was a member of the Southern Baptist Church of Depot, Ky.

Among the survivors are a son, Leslie R. Fulkerson of Rockport, Ky.; a daughter, Mrs. Edna F. Shelton of Mount Vernon, Ill.; two brothers and six grandchildren.

Services were at 2 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 21, at the Meridith Funeral Home in Highland, with the Rev. Barry Harris officiating. Burial was in Keystone Cemetery, St. Jacob.

TAKE RELIGIOUS STATUE

A religious statue, 4 feet tall and constructed of concrete, was stolen last week from the home of Ermazella Wood, 2650 Adams St., she reported.

Priest jailed again

abortions are performed each week. His efforts Friday morning, in sub-zero temperatures, were not effective as those confronted entered the clinic anyway.

HE APPEARED before Circuit Judge George Morfan Jr. at 1:30 p.m. Friday and pleaded not guilty to the trespass charge and asked for a jury trial. His bond was set at $3,000. He was released at 3:15 that day after posting a $302 cash bail.

At 3:21 p.m. Friday, however, Granite City police were notified by Associate Atty. Gen. Thomas E. Hildebrand that the Reverend Arntsen was to be taken into custody to serve a 20-day jail commitment. The Illinois Supreme Court had ruled in April 1982 when the priest was found guilty of criminal trespass to property at the clinic on Feb. 26 last year.

Judge Hildebrand, upon hearing that the Reverend Arntsen had just been released from the Granite City jail Friday afternoon, called the appellate court offices and inquired on the status of the priest's appeal of the 1982 conviction. The judge learned that the Illinois Supreme Court had refused to hear the case and that a mandate had been sent to Edwardsville. The mandate was apparently lost in the mail. Learning that the leave to appeal had been denied, the judge ordered the priest arrested again to complete his jail sentence.

THE REVEREND Arntsen had just left the Granite City Police Station and was stopped at 24th Street and Washington Avenue, where he was arrested. He was held by the local authorities until being transported to the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville.

Early retirement

he has completed 15 years of full-time employment with District Nine, is at least 55 years of age, has notified the board of resignation or retirement plans and is eligible for an immediate retirement annuity from the Illinois Teachers Retirement System.

REGARDING a retired non-certificated employee, there is participation at board expense if he or she has completed eight years of full-time employment with the district, is at least 55, has notified the board of resignation or retirement plans (at least 30 calendar days before effective date), and is eligible for an immediate retirement annuity from the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund.

A retiree who participates as though he or she was an active employee. Coverage for dependents also is extended at board expense, but no additional or new dependents may be included.

Such participation continues until the retired employee attains age 65, at which time coverage for the retiree and all his or her dependents ceases.

In the case of administrative employees electing this plan, a $5,000 death benefit is guaranteed upon attainment of age 65 when other coverage ceases.

IF A RETIREE DIES before attaining age 65, participation by dependents continues at board expense until the earlier of two dates—the date when the employee is living with a minor child, or the date his or her dependents become otherwise ineligible (remarriage or attainment of 65 by a surviving spouse, attainment of age 19 by dependent children, or as otherwise stipulated in the health benefit plan).

Persons electing early retirement under District Nine's plan are considered to be under individual contract with the district as a consultant or substitute until age 65, with no option to return to regular employment status or to claim rights under tenure laws.

These persons serve the district a maximum of five days per year when mutually agreeable.

Consultant or substitute activities may include demonstration teaching, working on staff development and in-service programs, helping with testing programs, compiling student test data, orienting and providing aid to new teachers.

Also, updating curriculum guides and other learning materials, assisting at registrations and pre-registrations, substitute work in an appropriate area, and training assistance.

A SEPARATE policy, GBQA, awards unused earned absence pay upon termination of employment, in accord with contractual employment benefits for unused earned absences.

That plan was developed to reward school employees who avoid being absent from their work. The payments are made in the final year of employment in the final two years, or in the final three years.

An early distribution schedule adopted March 2, 1982, applies to those with a minimum of 120 days of sick leave accumulation.

Its options also permit employees to defer their pay for unused absences until after retirement.

Utility tax referendum is stopped by legal opinion

Madison County voters will not be able to vote in the March primary election on a utility tax referendum which asks the state to cut its 5-percent utility tax in half.

Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles said she cancelled plans for such a referendum on the primary ballot after receiving a letter from Assistant State's Attorney Marshall "Zeke" Smith Thursday warning that the referendum would be illegal. Smith noted that his position was supported by an Illinois attorney general's opinion to the state's attorney of LaSalle County last September.

The Madison County Board acted Wednesday to put the question on the ballot. Smith warned that such action would likely be struck down by the courts because none home-rule counties must have a successful petition drive to put advisory referendums before the ballots.

Miss Bowles said she immediately cancelled all orders dealing with the referendum, thus saving the county about $3,500 in election expenses.

Cutting the state utility tax in half would save consumers approximately $300 million a year.

Footprints lead police through GC neighborhood

Snow covered roads and alleys create difficulty for officers and more work for police officers, but the snow also was instrumental last week in aiding the capture of a Percy, Ill., man and a Granite City youth who allegedly were prowling several streets.

Thomas A. Kasson, 18, of Percy, initially was charged with prowling, contributing to the delinquency of a minor and failure to appear in court on a charge of unlawful possession of cannabis. His 16-year-old male companion was charged with prowling and a curfew violation.

The pair was taken into custody near the Kirkpatrick Homes, where they were tracked by officers who followed their footprints from the vicinity of East 28th and Short streets.

Later the same day, informational documents were issued through the Madison County state's attorney's office charging Kasson with burglary and residential (garage) burglary. He pleaded innocent in an appearance in the Granite City court and bond was set at $3,000.

A mittimus was issued and Kasson was transferred to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville. The juvenile involved was released to his mother pending a court hearing.

The footprints being tracked reportedly led police near houses, cars and garages on East 28th, East 29th, Ralph, Short, Iowa, Henry, Kate and Edwards streets and resulted in Kasson and his companion eventually being stopped by a police sergeant at Edwards Street and Ridgedale Avenue.

Kasson was specifically charged with the burglary of a garage at the home of Dave Bigham, 2904 Iowa St., in which a box of tools was stolen. The tools were recovered.

The other felony charge of auto burglary involved the alleged break-in of a 1979 van belonging to John Koesterer, 2715 Iowa St., from which a red tool box containing sheet metal tools valued at $600 was stolen. These items also were recovered, it was learned.

Serve warrant on county jail inmate

An informational document alleging auto burglary, issued through the Madison County state's attorney's office in Granite City police, was served last week on David L. Reeder, 17, of 807 Greenwood St., Madison, at the Madison County Jail in Edwardsville.

Reeder was charged earlier by Madison police with a 1983 burglary at the John Prusacki home, 1929 Beckwith Ave., Madison.

Two other youths, both age 14, also were charged in the burglary and the arrest of the trio resulted in police clearing the burglaries of six other homes in Madison, authorities said at the time.

In the Granite City warrant, Reeder was charged with the Nov. 22 burglary of a converted bus-camper belonging to Joel Joseph, 2925 Iowa St.

The vehicle was parked in the 2000 block of 14th Street at the time of the incident, in which a large freezer chest valued at $250 was taken, reports said.

PASSENGER INJURED IN PONTON MISHAP

A vehicle operated by David L. Syling, 42, of 2401 Pontoon Road, was involved in a collision at 4:05 p.m. Saturday in the 2400 block of Pontoon Road and a passenger in his car, Kathy Kauffman, 18, of Maryville, was injured and taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

Syling was turning into his driveway from the eastbound lanes when his car was struck by a westbound auto driven by Patricia B. McNamara, 35, of St. Louis.

Syling, who was reported another westbound vehicle had stopped to allow him to make a left turn, was charged with failing to yield the right-of-way.

RETRIEVES STOLEN PURSE, MINUS RING

Marjorie Perdue, 2005 Cleveland Blvd., reported to Madison police at 6:55 p.m. Friday that someone stole a purse which she left about 15 minutes in her auto, parked in the 1200 block of Madison Avenue.

About an hour later, Mrs. Perdue notified police that her purse was recovered in the East Granite area. The only item determined to be missing was a gold ring, set with five stones.

Chouteau to give out free commodities this Friday

Chouteau Township officials and senior citizens will give out surplus government commodities at the Chouteau Township Social Center, 697 N. Thorngate Drive, Mitchell, at 1:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 27.

"We will have processed cheese, cheddar cheese, butter, dry milk, honey and cornmeal. All products will be given out on first-come, first-served basis by ticket number you receive as you come through the door to the social center," Sparks noted.

Lewis and Clark seeks Head Start sponsorship

Lewis and Clark Community College officials have announced that the college is actively seeking permanent sponsorship of the idled Madison County Head Start program and hope for an announcement in a few weeks.

In the wake of an audit which showed that the former Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission (EOC) had spent nearly $1 million in ways not approved by the state, EOC's funds were frozen by a bank due to non-payment of a loan and EOC relinquished sponsorship of Head Start on Jan. 5.

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has agreed to take over the program on a temporary basis (until July 1) and hopes to resume classes by the end of this month. SIUC already operates the Head Start program in St. Clair County.

Nearly 500 children have been deprived of classes under Head Start since the EOC funds were frozen before the holidays.

Joseph Pukach, dean of community and college resources for Lewis and Clark and a former member of the EOC governing board, said Head Start would tie in with the college's Child Care program and would give students at the community college more experience in child care. Pukach resigned from the EOC board in December over what he said was a lack of communications between the EOC administration and the board.

FILE CANNABIS CHARGE

While being questioned about a warrant last week at Granite City police headquarters, a small bag of cannabis allegedly was found in the shirt pocket of Robert D. Griffin, 19, of 2640 Center St., who had been taken into custody at the Clark Service Station, Nantook Road and Washington Avenue.

Circuit court authorities advised police to disregard the warrant and Griffin posted a $102 cash bond on the cannabis possession charge and was released.

BREAK HEADLIGHTS

Two men were seen near the rear of an apartment complex where the headlights of an auto were smashed last week, Mel Dionea, 3239 Maryville Road, reported. One man was seen running across the parking area shortly after the vandalism occurred, reports said.

President
GRANITE CITY TRUST

Q: Some years ago, I named my son as executor of my estate. Since that time, he has moved out of state, and now lives at some distance. Do you foresee a problem in his remaining as executor, if he has no objections?

A: The real consideration here is the burden you may be placing on your son due to the distance involved. An executor does have a number of major responsibilities including inventorying your estate, paying bills and taxes, and making distributions from the estate following a final accounting. These must all be done at the location of the estate and, sometimes, can be time consuming. Additionally, the costs of his travel would be charged against the estate. You may want to consider having your son remain as executor, but also naming a co-executor. The trust department at your bank will be happy to assist you in this move, as well as to give you information on trusts and estate management in general. Your attorney should, of course, be made aware of, and consulted in this action with your son and your banker.

Veterans insured with VA to get dividends

More than $35 million will be paid to 181,463 Illinois veterans during 1984 as a result of dividends declared by the Veterans Administration on insurance policies.

Grady Horton, director of the VA regional office in Chicago, said these veterans have kept their GI insurance in force since their discharge from the service.

The record high dividend was made possible because of improved interest earnings on the insurance funds' investments.

No application for the annual dividend is needed, Horton said. Each policyholder will receive the dividend in the month of the anniversary of the individual policy.

In Illinois 2,471 World War I veterans will receive $623,000 in dividends; 144,042 World War II veterans will receive $30,012,000; 30,088 Korean veterans will receive $3,916,000 and 4,862 veterans holding Veterans Reopened Insurance policies will receive $969,000.

Dividends differ under each program depending on the amount of insurance, age, plan selected and length of time the policy has been in force.

Idea lab projects give first-hand knowledge

The Niedringhaus School Idea Lab primary students recently completed a unit on the study of the circus. Using an educational kit from the Ringling Brothers Barnum and Bailey Circus and supplementary materials from the Granite City Public Library, the students studied circus history in this country from 1776 to the present.

Changes in presentation and costs were discussed and comparisons were made in small and large circuses.

Various circus careers were studied, including requirements for the Clown College in Venice, Fla. Each child developed his or her own unique clown face design and, as a culminating activity, dressed in their outfits and made up their faces.

The group also performed a biology project, usually reserved for high school students - the dissection of frogs. The project answered students' questions such as: Do frogs have teeth? How are the organs of a frog similar to those of other vertebrates? What can we learn about the structure and function of higher organisms by dissecting frogs?

The program was coordinated with the help of Granite City High School Science Department Head Harold Gebhardt.

The Idea Lab activities and projects are carried out under the supervision of team teachers Linda Koenig and Julia Matoesian, with assistance of Principal Harry Briggs.

"The kids really look forward to these programs - especially the frog biology project," said Mrs. Matoesian. "We only conduct the experiment every three years, so that none of them do the project twice, and the kids are always wanting to know when it will be their turn to dissect the frogs."

The gifted program in Granite City School District 9 is under the direction of Warren Collins, the administrative assistant of Elementary Education.

Governor vetoes Cook county pension program

Gov. James R. Thompson last week vetoed legislation that he said would have given exorbitant pension benefit increases to the 27 elected officials in Cook County. "It is poor pension law and I cannot approve it," he said in his veto message.

"I believe the bill jeopardizes the tax status of the Cook County pension fund, raises benefits to inappropriate levels without appropriate employee contributions, and is technically flawed."

Under provisions of the bill, it would only apply to elected Cook County officials and would provide them with pension benefits not allowed for in any other county in Illinois, he asserted.

A Cook County official who retired at age 55 under the bill with 20 years of public service would be eligible to receive a pension equal to 80 percent of his final salary, compare to 24.99 percent under current law.

The governor expressed concern that the bill, if it became law, could set a precedent for local-level and state employee groups to request similar benefits, resulting in huge costs to state and local governments and taxpayers.

SERIES OF FLAG THEFTS

An unapologetic thief last week stole large American flags from in front of the dental office of Dr. Richard Hodshire, the chiropractic office of Dr. Eugene Walton and the Holt veterinary office in the 2000 and 2100 blocks of Johnson Road. In an unrelated case, a thief took a table saw from the yard of Julian Wallace, 2110 Delmar Ave., last week.

A 14-year-old Coolidge Junior High School student was beaten and kicked by an older youth in the parking lot at National Food Store, 3100 Madison Ave., last week.

LITCHFIELD — The Madison Trojans won their second major basketball tournament in less than a month, but Madison Coach Larry Graham is still unconvinced that his team is a great team.

However, the Trojans' 69-66 victory over Taylorville, which had been ranked 10th in statewide Class AA polls, in the championship game of the Litchfield Invitational Tournament Saturday may have convinced Graham that Madison is a good team.

"We have to work hard and have good teamwork for us to win. When we have it, we're a good team. When we don't play hard, any decent team can beat us. Right now, we're not a bad team," Graham said.

Madison worked hard and played as a total team. The seven Trojans who played in the game blended together to cause Taylorville more problems than any other team had done so far this year.

"We haven't played a team as quick as Madison this year," Taylorville Coach Lee Emery said. "Their pressure and quickness bothered us, and we made some mistakes we shouldn't have. I'm sure we learned something from this game."

Needless to say, teamwork was the key to Madison's second victory in as many visits to Litchfield. The Trojans also won the first tournament in 1968.

"It was an all-around team effort, not only on offense, but on defense too," Graham said. "Everyone was covering for each other and working hard."

"When we have great teamwork, teams can't set the defense for just one player because another one will score. If teams try to team on Reggie Banks, then Michael Young will come around and score 20 points. All of our players are capable of scoring 20 points a game whenever they get the chance."

In fact, the Trojans tried to key on one Trojan only to be burned by another Trojan. Taylorville was so concerned about Banks that Young took up the slack and led the Trojans with 20 points. Even with the pressure, Banks still managed to score 15 points.

But Trojans were more than Banks and Young Saturday night. Everyone played a key role in the Madison victory.

With two seconds left in the first quarter, Taylorville gained the ball on a travelling violation by the Trojans and tried to get the ball downcourt to add to its 20-14 lead. However, the pass, intended for 7-0 West German transfer Jens Kujawa, sailed over his hands, and Madison got the ball near its own basket.

Young took the ball out and looked for Banks under the basket. Since Banks was covered by Kujawa, Young had to look elsewhere. Suddenly, he found Joe Crowder open seven feet away from the basket. Crowder, who scored 33 points, made his jump shot as time expired, and the Trojans were down by only four points.

"That was a big play for us," Graham said. "It was one of the turning points of the game."

However, the main turning point of the game came in the second quarter. The Trojans scored eight straight points to turn a 23-18 Taylorville lead to a 26-23 Madison lead. Victor Valentine started the streak with a pair of free throws. Then James Bennett picked off a Taylorville pass to set up another basket. Although Banks and Crowder missed the first two shots, Banks scored on the third shot to cut the lead to one.

Banks blocked a shot by Taylorville's Fat Lane and deflected it into Crowder's hands. Crowder passed to Young, who scored on a fast break jump shot.

Finally, Taylorville lost the ball on a travelling call and Banks took a short pass for an easy basket and the three-point lead with 5:47 to go in the quarter.

Madison took a nine-point lead at halftime, and the lead fluctuated between six and 14 points until the end of the game.

Even more impressive was Madison's defensive effort in the second quarter. Taylorville made only three of 17 shots from the field in the second quarter.

On top of the Trojans' offensive troubles, Kujawa, who had been averaging 20 points a game, picked up his third foul with 3:23 left in the quarter. Taylorville point guard John Emery also committed his third foul in the quarter and hindered his defensive efforts.

"Madison's defense was the toughest defense he's (Kujawa's) ever had to face. He's never faced anything like that before. He had to do a few things he hadn't been used to, and he lost his concentration. It came a shock to him how quick Madison was," Emery said.

Lane, who finished with 20 points, Joe Champey, who added 16 points, and the younger Emery, who put in 14 points, made up for some of Kujawa's lack of scoring, but it just wasn't enough to take the Trojans.

"Either way, Madison was going to learn something by playing us and we were going to learn something by playing them," Emery said. "I'm sure Larry would agree with me."

The Trojans learned the value of teamwork during the game, and Graham was obviously pleased.

"The way we played our first three games, we had people calling us wanting to play us because they thought we would be weak this year," Graham said. "After those games, the boys decided to buckle down and play good basketball. I'm really proud of the group for doing

Banks, Salmond named to tourney team

Madison and Venice made up half of the all tournament team at the Litchfield Invitational Tournament last week.

Madison center Reggie Banks and Venice guard Eddie Salmond were placed on the first team. Madison guard Victor Valentine and forward James Bennett and Venice guard Larry McChes were voted to the second team.

Banks was Madison's leading scorer in the tournament with 53 points while Salmond scored 59 points to lead the Red Devils.

Litchfield forward Brian Horst, who averaged 31.7 points a game during the tournament, was the tournament's most valuable player. Jens Kujawa, Taylorville's 7-0 center, and Taylorville guard Joe Champey filled out the first team.

Rob Bloemker of Highland and Jeff Anderson of Mt. Zion were also named to the second team.

Mt. Zion defeated Highland 93-70 in the consolation championship game Friday.

Madison's cheerleading squad also went home with an award as it took second place in that competition. Litchfield won first place.

Warriors stop Hiltoppers

By PAULA WISE
of the Press-Record

HILLSBORO — The basketball Warriors of Granite City High School edged one step closer to a 500 record Friday night by defeating Hillsboro, 58-53. After a disastrous 0-7 start, the Warriors are now 7-8.

Despite the win, Warriors Coach Don Deterding was far from pleased with his team's performance.

Deterding, who had earlier termed the Hillsboro game as "a very important game" for his team, felt the Warriors were not mentally prepared for the ball game.

"We played very, very poorly," stated Deterding. "We just don't play well against teams we are supposed to beat."

Coach Deterding was also concerned about the Warriors not playing as a team.

"We stopped doing things we normally do well and started doing things we've never even tried before," said Deterding.

"The guards kept trying to dribble through the press and Jeff (Gray) just stopped shooting in the second half."

Deterding, however, was pleased with the Warriors scoring ability.

"Offensively the first half was good. We scored 36 points. That's pretty good for us."

The game started on a high note for the Warriors when Kurt Hyla forced a Hillsboro turnover putting the Warriors on top 2-0. After Hyla's basket, Jesse Goldsmith, high scorer for the Hiltoppers with 21, put in his first two points to tie the score at two.

Warrior Jeff Gray put in the next six points to give his team the lead 8-2. Three points by Hiltopper Hugh Satterlee brought the score to 8-5.

The Warriors increased their lead to 14-8 before the Hiltoppers capitalized on two Granite City turnovers and a goaltending call to tie the score at 14.

The Warriors outscored Hillsboro 5-1 in the final two minutes of the first quarter to regain their lead 19-15.

Even though the Warrior offense had scored 19 points in the first quarter, the defense had allowed the Hiltoppers to stay in the game.

"Defensively we are terrible. I can't believe we are so bad," said Deterding.

"The second half of the Roxana game and now this game we have really played poorly," he added.

"I guess I shouldn't complain though. A month ago I would have been tickled to death just to win."

The Warriors managed to increase their lead to eight points in the second quarter. Warrior center Scott Cant, who had been unheard from in the first quarter, put in seven points. Gray added six more points to make the score 36-28 at the half.

Scoring was sparse in the third quarter. The Warriors managed only six points while giving up seven.

The first score came almost two minutes into the quarter when Hillsboro's Todd Leitschuh put in a free throw. Gray was the first to get the Warriors on the board in the second half making the score 38-29.

A second goaltending call against the Warriors put the Hiltoppers back to within seven, 38-31. Again, the Warriors managed to comeback and increase their lead to 42-31 before a Granite City turnover lead to more Hillsboro scoring. Four straight points Hiltopper points made the score at the end of the third quarter 42-35.

Cant opened the scoring for the Warriors in the fourth quarter with a three point play. Joe Gray added two more points to increase the Warriors lead to 12 points, their biggest of the night.

"A Granite City timeout, with the score 41, proved to do more harm than good for the Warriors. The Hiltoppers scored the next four points to pull within six, 51-45. However, the Warriors refused to go down. Baskets by each of the Gray brothers pushed the Warrior lead back to 10.

A blocked shot by Hyla, his third on the night, set up another Warrior basket.

After a timeout, Hillsboro tried to mount a comeback. Six straight points by the Hiltoppers pulled them back to within six, 57-51. But there wasn't enough time left for the Hiltoppers.

A free throw by Joe Gray made the Warrior lead 58-51 with only seconds left to play. Hillsboro added a field goal with one second left but it was not enough as the Warriors won their seventh game of the season and third in a row.

Coach Deterding hopes to put this game behind the Warriors.

"I won't even bring this game up next week in practice," Deterding said. "I don't like to dwell on the negative. We have to start working on the two ball games we have next week."

"I will be concerned if we play this poorly against a good ball club," Deterding added.

The two games to which Coach Deterding referred are both home games. The Warriors will face Alton Friday night and Triad Saturday night. The junior varsity game will begin both nights at 6:15 p.m. with the varsity game immediately following.

The junior varsity Warriors also defeated the Hillsboro Hiltoppers Friday night. The score was 59-34.

Edge Hazelwood, Lindbergh Grapplers finish second in Hazelwood tourney

By ALAN L. GERSTENECKER
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

HAZELWOOD — Judging by Granite City High's finish Saturday in the 12th Annual Hazelwood Central Quadrangular Wrestling Tournament, the Warriors are certainly on their way towards respectability once again.

Granite City finished second in the prestigious tourney behind perennial powerhouse Roxana. Hazelwood Central was third followed by Lindbergh High, a distant fourth.

Although the Warriors didn't win the tournament, they succeeded in doing some things indicative of an emerging team.

First, the Warriors managed four champions — Jeff Cotter at 98 pounds, Greg Nemeth, 119 pounds, Mike Lewis, 132 pounds and Mark Dowdy at 155 pounds. In fact the Warriors managed as many champions as Roxana. Only Hazelwood Central managed more champions, five. Strong second and third-place finishes by both Roxana and Granite City were the only factors which enable the Illinois teams victories over Hazelwood Central.

Secondly, the Warriors finished second, but managed to outdistance tournament host Hazelwood Central by a single point, 179-178. Both Roxana and Hazelwood Central finished ahead of the Warriors during their holiday tourney last month.

"We knew coming in here that both Roxana and Hazelwood were going to be tough to beat," said Warrior Coach Bill Schmitt. "Both beat us in our holiday tournament."

"I'm real pleased, naturally, with our four champions, and also with our 175 and 185 pounders, Tracy McElroy and Lester White," Schmitt said.

Both McElroy and White wrestled well throughout the tournament. McElroy picked up a pair of wins through the first two rounds before losing to Hazelwood Central's Walter Davis in the third round.

McElroy, incidentally, is usually a 185 pounder but lost weight to wrestle in the lighter division, unique to Missouri.

White picked up a victory in the first round over Roxana, but lost his two final matches to Lindbergh and Hazelwood.

"Right now I think we're wrestling a little better than we've been," Schmitt said. "Our lineup is more consistent. We've had the same lineup for about two weeks now and that really makes a difference."

The solidity of the Warrior lineup played an important part in the Warriors' success Saturday. Injuries early plagued Granite City, but now more than midway through the season, the Warriors appear to be re-establishing themselves as a dominant wrestling power in the area.

Friday, the day prior to Saturday's tourney, Granite City bettered a tough Parkway West squad, 37-27. The Warriors won eight of 13 divisions in that matchup. That victory improved the Warrior's record in dual matches to 10-5.

Although Roxana's victory Saturday was no surprise to Schmitt, Roxana's Coach Larry Milazzo was.

"I had no idea that we were winning or had won it until the end," Milazzo said. "Truthfully, with five champions, I thought Hazelwood had it wrapped up and we'd have to battle with Granite City for second. I never dreamed we were that far ahead," Milazzo said.

Going into the season, Milazzo said he anticipated his worst team ever. But, work and willingness to excel, he said, has made the team much more.

"I just don't believe this bunch of kids. I thought this would be our worst team ever, but they've worked to mature, always giving 110 percent. They deserved this win today."

The tournament victory is the Shells' second of the season. Earlier in the season they won the Mascoutah tournament, a 16-team tourney.

The Warriors are off until Saturday when they travel to Mt. Pleasant North for another quad meet at noon.

Venice Finishes Fourth Litchfield cagers rip Red Devils

By ROGER KRAMER
of the Press-Record

LITCHFIELD — There's bad news for future opponents of the Litchfield Panthers. If they think Brian Horst is good now, they'll find he'll get better game by game.

However, it's hard to imagine Horst can get any better, especially the way he picked apart Venice Friday in the third place game of the Litchfield Invitational Tournament. Horst scored 39 points and led the Panthers to an 85-57 victory over the Venice Red Devils.

Horst, a junior averaging more than 25 points a game, was only four points shy of the single game scoring record set by Randy Droy of Triad in 1972. His 95 points over three games were only eight points short of the tournament scoring record set by Gary Lusk of Madison in 1968.

"He's got to be one of the best players in the area this year," Litchfield Coach Don Gush said. "He scored 95 points against two Class AA teams and Venice in this tournament, and he shot 62 percent tonight (Friday)."

"He had an awful lot of pressure with (Larry) McGhee and (Eddie) Salmond, and he handled it well. The thing about him is that he picks up something new every game and he adds that to what he already knows," Gush said.

Horst, who has started since his freshman year, is the main reason why Litchfield is 14-2 this season. The Panthers could be a team to contend with at the Vandalia Sectional tournament.

Horst was so good that Venice

Coach Clinton Harris and his assistant, Rick Everage, agree there was little the Red Devils could do to stop him.

"He's a good, pure shooter," said Venice Coach Clinton Harris. "We knew he was going to get his points, but we so worried about him so much that we didn't stop the other players, and they really hurt us."

It was people like Mark Elver, who scored 15 points, and Doug Graham, who added 14 points, who did as much as Horst to hand Venice its second loss in the tournament. The Red Devils lost to Madison 69-53 in Wednesday's semifinal game.

"We just didn't play defense. We didn't stick to their other players like we should have while we were double-teaming Horst. We just didn't have it," Harris said.

Venice did have a 16-15 lead by the end of the third quarter, but Horst came out hot in the first two minutes of the second quarter. Horst scored eight points in that span to put Litchfield ahead 25-18.

Horst scored 14 points and did not miss a shot in the second quarter. If that wasn't enough, he scored eight points in the third quarter and 13 in the fourth quarter.

Venice, trailing by as much as nine points in the third quarter, managed to cut Litchfield's lead to three, 54-51, in the opening minutes of the fourth quarter.

Salmond and McGhee combined for four jumpers from beyond the top of the key and gave Venice a shot at the victory. However, Venice failed to score on its next five trips to the basket, and Litchfield quickly went to a 64-51 lead.

After that, Venice had to foul to have any hope of coming back, and Horst made nine of 10 free throw attempts in the last two and a half minutes of the game to ice the win.

In fact, Litchfield made 22 of 25 free throws (88 percent) for the contest.

"We looked sluggish out there," Harris said. We didn't do well on defense, we didn't shoot well, and we didn't move the ball well. I don't know why we couldn't do it."

Phillip White, who suffered a mild concussion to the head in Wednesday's game, returned to the line-up to play the final three quarters, but the injury affected his points production. White, who had been averaging 17.5 points a game, could only score eight points Friday.

"He said he was feeling all right, but still back in his mind, he knew he was still hurting and he couldn't play as well as he usually does," Harris said.

Salmond and McGhee finished the game with 22 points apiece.

Frosh Tourney Begins Today

Edwardsville wins soph cage tourney

GRANITE CITY — Edwardsville High School's sophomore basketball team emerged victorious Thursday by posting a 52-44 victory over Madison to win Granite City High's Sophomore Basketball Tournament at GCHS Memorial Gymnasium.

Belleville West whipped Roxana 71-36 to finish third while Venice edged Assumption 79-75 to capture the consolation championship at Grigsby Junior High, the other tournament site, Granite City, the only team not to win a game in the tourney, was edged out of seventh place Thursday at Grigsby by Wood River 56-43.

Granite City cagers will get a chance to redeem themselves this week as GCHS hosts the second such tournament in as many weeks. Tonight, the freshman squad begins a three-day tournament which will be held in a similar manner on Jan. 23, 25 and 26.

Tonight in the first game, the Warriors will meet Collinsville at 6 p.m. while Belleville east faces Roxana at 7:30 p.m. in the second game. Both of those games will be played at Granite City High.

Other first round games, at Grigsby, include Belleville Althoff squaring off against Wood River in game three and St. Louis University High against Edwardsville in the fourth matchup. Those games follow the same schedule.

Second-round pairings at GCHS on Wednesday will pit the winners of games one and two against each other and the winners of games three and four against each other.

Second round games at Grigsby will pit the losers of games one and two and the losers of three and four. Those games will also follow the 6 and 7:30 p.m. time schedule.

Thursday's tournament schedule at GCHS will include the third place game at 6 p.m. with the championship game at 7:30 p.m.

The seventh place game at Grigsby is slated for 6:45 p.m. while the consolation championship is slated for 8:15 p.m.

Bryan Wilkinson is the Warriors' freshman coach. Admission for the tournament is $1.

Gators Finish Third

Braves matmen win Roxana tourney

The Coolidge Junior High School wrestling team, it appears, may be re-establishing the wrestling dynasty it controlled not too many years ago.

The Braves won an eight-team invitational wrestling meet last Saturday, Jan. 14, at Roxana Junior High School and are currently 7-1 on the season.

"It was a great win for us," said Steve Cavanaugh, Coolidge wrestling coach. "It was great to come out ahead of Roxana this time. Coolidge had a strong reputation years ago. Hopefully, we're on the way towards rebuilding that reputation."

The Braves' only loss this season was to Roxana, a 36-35 decision earlier in the season.

But this time things were different. The Braves ripped Roxana to win the championship with 181 points, five points ahead of their nemesis to the north.

Grigsby Junior High, Coolidge's sister school, finished third with 113 points followed by Murphysboro, Bethalto, Carbondale, Jerseyville and Edwardsville.

Since winning the tourney title, the Braves have again bettered Roxana, this time more decisively, in dual competition, 44-26.

Along the way to the tournament championship, the Braves amassed four first places, two seconds, a third and three fourths. First place finishers are Chad Carpenter, 105 pounds; Rich Fenoglio, 119; David Gold, 145, and Terry Stanley, 185 pounds.

The Braves' two second place finishers are Chuck Sparks and Ross Karbaski, 126 pounds and heavy weight respectively. Coolidge's sole third place finisher was Chip Fenoglio, 82 pounds.

Finishing fourth for the Braves are Chuck Mann, 75 pounds; Rick Fowler, 98, and David Canady, 135 pounds.

In addition to Coolidge's place finishers, Grigsby managed one first place, one second and six third-place finishers.

Finishing first for the Gators was Scott Marks, 112 pounds. Brent Davis was the Gator's second place finisher at 98 pounds.

Grigsby's six third-place finishers include Jim Revelle, 75 pounds; Wayne Wasson, 100; Jim Stout, 126; Chris Moore, 135; Rusty Davis, 145, and Paul Milland, 170.

GCHS skaters split with Hazelwoods

GRANITE CITY — Sometimes you win, sometimes you lose. That's the way Granite City High School's club hockey team found it's Hazelwood (Mo.) opponents during the weekend.

Saturday evening, playing at home, the Warriors bettered the Hazelwood West Wildcats 4-1. Sunday afternoon, against the Wildcats' sister school Hazelwood East Spartans, things were a little different as the Warriors lost 4-2. Hazelwood East, incidentally, is leading the Mid States Amateur Hockey Association. The Warriors are battling for second place.

In Saturday's matchup, the Warriors took control of the game from the beginning. The victory virtually secures Granite City a place in the playoffs next month.

At the 7:44 mark of the first period in Saturday's matchup, Granite City's David Yorkovich took a pass from John Abrams and slapped it past the Wildcat keeper for the first score.

The Warriors padded their lead early in the second period, on a power play when David Wilmouth, getting the assist from David Young and Lee Schrieber, pushed a shot past the Wildcat defense for the second score.

Hazelwood West managed to narrow the Warrior lead less than 40 seconds later as the Wildcats' Boverly beat Granite City's Jeff Pare. Schuster and Franklin picked up the assists.

Leading 2-1, the Warriors took matters into their own hands. Four and a half minutes into the third period Wilmouth, getting a pass from Chris Carden, flipped a shot through the Wildcat goal plane, giving the Warriors a secure 3-1 lead.

The game's final tally came in the waning minute of play as Carden, after accepting a pass from Ray Romine, beat the Hazelwood defense and slapped it through for the goal. Matt Laub was also credited with an assist on the play.

In Sunday's matchup, Hazelwood East took an early lead on a power play and never looked back.

First-period Hazelwood goals by Jeff Kroner and Mike Guber gave the Spartans an early jump on the Warriors. Yorkovich managed to cut the Spartan lead in the second period to one, 2-1, with the first Warrior goal, but the Spartans' Steve Lake came back in the opening minutes of the third period to increase Hazelwood's lead to 3-1, virtually dashing the Warrior hopes of a comeback.

Granite City's Todd Hinterser pumped new hope into the Warrior squad when scored midway through the final period, cutting the Spartan's lead to one, 3-2.

Unable to knot the game through the first 13 minutes of the final period, Granite City pulled its goalie, hoping for a last-minute goal.

Unfortunately for the Warriors, that's just what happened. In the final 30 seconds of the contest, Hazelwood's Lake picked up his second goal of the afternoon as he broke away from the Warrior defense and scored on an unattended goal.

"I feel confident that we're playing some good hockey right now," said Warrior Coach Garry Henson. "However, I'm a little concerned that we're not scoring as much as I think we're capable or on the chances we have."

The Warrior coach explained that although his team has been winning recently — 5-1 over Riteau last week and 4-1 over Hazelwood West Saturday — the scores should have actually been more in favor of Granite City.

"For some reason, we're not getting the goal to the back of the net. We're going to work on it in practice. Hopefully, we'll break out of it by the playoffs," Henson said.

Henson believes if the Warriors had been able to capitalize on their opportunities they may have been able to beat the Spartans Sunday.

The Warriors, currently 7-2-2, face Parkway West tonight at the South County Ice Rink. Action begins at 8:45 p.m.

Sports of all Sorts

A match for McEnroe?

By AL BARNES
for the Press-Record

The other day, me and Press-Record Sports Editor Al Gerstenecker, were driving up to Edwardsville to play some tennis at the Cottonwood Sports Complex. Indoor, of course, and the subject, very naturally, dwelled on the Masters championship final the day before at Madison Square Garden in New York City.

The curly-haired John McEnroe won the crown and, in the process, almost totally destroyed Ivan Lendl in straight sets. The young New Yorker was so overwhelmingly in charge I found myself wishing that he'd loose a point (too) just to prove that he is human an not a robot.

Since I have seen all the tennis greats of the last 60 years play, I tend to attempt to grade all of them, from Bill Tilden on down to Jimmy Connors and McEnroe.

So, when I offered my opinion that little Bobby Riggs was the best player I have ever seen, Gerstenecker looked at me as if I had gone off my rocker. That is, until I finished my sentence: "...per cubic inch."

In fact, if a miracle could be now accomplished and bring back Riggs to play a "winner take all set between McEnroe and Riggs" I would bet my home, mortgage and all, on Bobby. That is at Mac's present age of 25 and Riggs the same.

Oh, I wouldn't suggest that Riggs could match McEnroe in his shots, but rather, he'd do it with guile and courtship.

Gerstenecker countered with what, I'm sure, he considered a killing argument: "Yeah, but Riggs couldn't even beat Billie Jean King." I countered that argument with: "Yeah, I don't know how he did it, but I bet that Bobby 'threw' the match and in the process, by betting on Billie Jean, won himself at least a million dollars or more. One thing I'm sure of: Bobby Riggs was the game's (tennis) best con man."

Talking about Riggs, it's a small world. My son, Mike, and Bobby's son, Bobby Jr., were officers together in the United States Army and, in 1983 met at Fort Knox outside of Louisville and became doubles partners. And, while my memory is a little vague, I think that they won the All-Service national doubles championship that year held at Baltimore, Md.

Bobby Junior, like his daddy, was more than adequate at cards. So, one weekend, Mike and Bobby Junior spent the weekend with my wife and I at our apartment in Arlington.

Sunday morning, around 11 a.m., we started playing bridge, Bobby and I against Mike and his Mother.

I shall never forgive this one contract Bobby and I were dealt. We ended up at six-no trump, with me playing the contract.

As I surveyed the dummy laid down by young Riggs, I commented: "It would take an earthquake to defeat this contract."

I had no sooner got that little statement out of my mouth when the apartment started to tremble and creak and groan as a massive quake, I think it was six on the Richter scale, began rattling dishes and scaring the devil out of all of us.

I'm happy to report, too, that I easily made the six-no trump contract, and in fact, took all 13 tricks.

And, right here, in a final comment on Bobby Riggs and his son and the present generation, I have no doubt that the father had been my partner, would have taken me to seven no-trump and we'd have made it for a premium of 1,500 points instead of the 750 we garnered.

I personally saw Riggs, Sr., play cards just once: It was around 1946, or thereabouts, and it was during a tournament at St. Louis' Triple AAA course in Forest Park. He was playing, a local businessman in the clubhouse and the game was GIG Rummy. After watching him for 20 or 30 minutes it was obvious that he had total recall on all cards played. He won about $200 in little over two hours. Not bad for an amateur.

RECOVER MINIBIKE TAKEN IN BURGLARY

The tracks of a stolen minibike were followed and the machine was recovered by police in the 2800 block of Morgan Avenue last week.

The minibike together with six rods and reels, valued at $400, and a 20 gallon aquarium, $50, which were not recovered, were taken in a garage burglary at the home of Jimmy Costoff, 2728 Harding Blvd., where a lock was cut off the door.

Negotiations being planned

Negotiations affecting all Granite City school employees loom ahead during the spring and summer. All existing agreements are to expire this year, and talks are continuing with secretaries on 1983-84 terms.

No official action was taken by the Board of Education last week, regarding an agenda item—hiring of consultants to make a secretarial study.

Local 98, Service Employees International Union, has advised the district that it wishes to reopen the working agreements affecting cafeteria employees and the custodial group—custodians, boiler operators, warehousemen, and maintenance employees. Donald Murphy is business agent and Jerry Webb is president.

The board's negotiating team for certificated personnel is being listed as Frank Kraus, Harold Hillmer, Terry Salem, Warren Collins, Michael Sikora, Pres. David Partney, Treas. Kelly Hogan and, as needed, Attorney Harold Baker. The alternate is Board Member Monroe Worthen.

The board's negotiators for non-certificated employees are shown as Hillmer, Salem, Ronald Landman, Michael Kanak, James Jettiries, Board Member Thomas Mlotky and, as needed, Attorney Baker, with Board Member Alan Corder as alternate.

It was noted Tuesday night that both panels are subject to change at any time.

Borrowing of $2 million to help meet the school system's Feb. 15 to April 15 costs was approved by the board; $600,000 will be first-year anti-inflation warrants against 1983 taxes (1984 collection) and $1,400,000 will be second-year warrants against 1984 taxes (1985 collection).

The request for bids on interest rates will specify five $100,000 warrants and three $500,000 warrants. The public opening by the Finance Committee will be at 2 p.m. Feb. 6. Competition has been opened to the banks and the savings and loan associations located within the district.

Cloverview Club studies robins

The Cloverview Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Ellen Mekamp, 2229 Lynch Ave., for a dessert luncheon served to the following members: Mrs. Clarence Etheridge, Mrs. Charles Gandaria, Mrs. John Jenkins, Mrs. George Knapp, Mrs. Robert McCauley, Mrs. William McMurtry, Mrs. Lester Rhine, Mrs. B. C. O'Neill, Mrs. Albert Taylor, Mrs. Raymond Williamson, and a guest Mrs. Larry Melvin, prior to the business segment.

The meeting was called to order by President Mrs. O'Neill, and the club collect was given by Mrs. Rhine.

President O'Neill announced that the club received a special request from the state president to alert all members of the situation pertaining to Morton Arboretum, Lisle, Ill. The Arboretum has suffered a series of detrimental encroachments dating back to 1922 and accelerating dramatically in recent years. The Arboretum is an internationally renowned botanical institute devoted to the growth, nurture and study of woody plants and to the maintenance of a healthy environment. Violations are about to be committed by the State Department of Transportation which is intent on building a highway. (Tollway if they get federal financing help) through a portion of the Arboretum's grounds.

The highway will impact some of Arboretum's finest natural treasures:

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority to mark Founder's Day

The Granite City Council of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority met Monday night in the home of Mrs. Carol Cathey and discussed plans for the sorority Founder's Day observance.

Chapter representatives agreed to attend the April event and each group was given a specific duty to perform.

In other business the group discussed Beta Sigma Phi Guest Day and it was agreed to hold the affair later in the year. Each chapter is to rush new members within their individual membership and to report to Guest Day Chairman Carol Cathey and B. J. Jones on progress of rush parties.

Attending were Rhonda Dooley

Puffer Lake—our only glacial lake, which is the site of a major bird sanctuary. It would have a negative impact upon the shrub and street tree collection, according to the state officer.

Members were asked to rally behind them in this struggle to protect and preserve the Arboretum and to further the research and educational goals of the great institution. Mrs. O'Neill had a letter of protest ready and all members signed a complaint about this impending violation.

The study was given by Mrs. Jenkins on "Vegetables and Fruit as Houseplants." She had on exhibition a healthy, hardy pineapple plant, grown by Mrs. Etheridge. She stated that as long as you have a spot that is sunny half of the day, you can grow a pineapple in your house. You can buy a dwarf variety—more and more florists and garden centers are stocking them—or you can buy a pineapple at the grocery store and start a plant of your own. If you decide on the latter, buy a fruit that has been freshly picked, and is still green. If the fruit has been picked too long, it's not apt to have viable growing tissue to propagate a new plant. If the leaves pull off too easily from the fruit, it is too ripe, Mrs. Jenkins explained.

To start a new plant, slice off the top 1/4-inch of pineapple, with the foliage attached. Clean all of the

Prather PTA announces May school carnival

Tentative plans for the annual school carnival were discussed at the January meeting of Prather PTA and it was decided to hold the fund raising project on May 4.

Final information on the event will be released in the "News and Notes" paper that is sent home with the children each Friday. Mrs. Carol Franklin, unit president explained.

The $5 prize for registering the largest number of parents went to Mrs. Mary Jane Davis, first grade teacher.

Mrs. Franklin also announced the previous month a $75 donation was made to RIF instead of the $5 contribution as was reported. She also announced the Area Council PTA blood drive is scheduled for March 13 and 14 at Central Christian Church, 2020 Johnson Road and volunteers are needed for both days.

During the meeting everyone present was asked if their children had received a "life saver" identification and were then offered to parents who have children at home. The next meeting is set for Feb. 13 at 7 p.m., Mrs. Franklin noted.

The early robins usually continue northward toward Canada, and if they time themselves properly, they may be called First Robins all along the way. Later arrivals in Illinois are those which will build a nest in April and spend the season here, rearing broods of young and pulling fat angle-worms from the lawn," the speaker noted.

The February meeting will be at the home of Mrs. John Jenkins, 2442 Lynch Ave.

The new members include, Winifred and Francis Bringer, Florence Hagnauer, Virginia McLeister, Frances and Albert Pelate, Truman Pruitt, Marjorie Reutebuch, Ann Sibthorp, Irene Turpenoff, Catherine Weaver and Paul and Anne Wright.

A legislative report on priorities relating to senior citizens for 1984 was submitted by Mrs. Ruth Jensen, and Mrs. Anne Pare spoke relative to community service noting dates of senior citizen discounts at various stores in the area.

The president reminded members that this is the time to sign up for Homestead Exemption and the Biennial National Convention of AARP will be held in St. Louis, beginning April 24 through the 27th celebrating 25 years of the organization.

A sunshine and condolence review was given by Mrs. Retta Cotter.

It was also noted the chapter received a letter from Mooseheart explaining the Granite City Chapter will have a segment of the ritual at Chapter Rally Day in Cahokia on March 4. The Child Care committee is planning a "kidnap breakfast" to be held on the chairman added.

After the meeting refreshments were served by the host committee, games were played and prizes won by Jean Teller, Clara Johnson and Marylee Busler. The next meeting is set for Wednesday at the lodge.

A review of past and future fund raising projects sponsored by the Madison Junior Service Club was the main topic of discussion at the monthly meeting of the organization, held last week.

The next event will be "Dinner is Served" for the benefit of the March of Dimes. Toni Sabao and Nancy Stimac were named co-chairmen of the dinner that is to be served at Schmucks. Craft demonstrations are

New 'Illinois Plan' offers help for small businesses

Governor James R. Thompson has announced two major new programs as part of the Illinois Plan, a comprehensive state economic program to foster small business growth and development.

"The two programs, the Small Business Development Center Program and the Business Procurement Assistance Program, will provide opportunities unique to small business in Illinois," the governor said. The Illinois Plan is being administered by the Department of Commerce and Community Affairs.

"We are grateful for the assistance and cooperation of the many segments involved, especially the U.S. Small Business Administration and the Illinois Community College Board."

The Small Business Development Center Program—
Six regional centers are being created where small business owners can receive a variety of managerial and technical assistance. In each region, universities and community colleges working with local trade and business groups, Chambers of Commerce, the Service Corps of Retired Executives and others will offer specialized assistance to area small businesses.

"The welfare of our small businesses is crucial to the state's overall well-being," Thompson said. "These centers will help business owners analyze situations and find solutions to their problems. Importantly, they provide access to university and college professionals—assistance small businesses may normally have been unable to afford on their own."

The program is funded through a $397,000 grant from the federal Small Business Administration. The centers are to be opened Feb. 1, with additional regional centers to be opened later.

Small Business Institute—
Also, $97,000 will be used beginning July 1 to fund the Small Business

Institute, a program using a team of university students together with business owners to provide a number of services from marketing and financial analysis to manpower assistance.

DCCA will use remaining funds to administer the development center program statewide and train regional center staff.

"The centers' first task is to determine what's available in the area," Michael T. Woelfel, DCCA Director, will then broker or deliver consulting, training and technical assistance."

Services to be provided include:
—Consulting on financial, personnel, managerial, production, regulatory and taxation issues.

—Training and workshops on business start-ups, computer use, low-cost advertising and related programs.

—Other special technical services such as procurement assistance, international marketing, business law, minority business opportunities, etc.

The Business Procurement Assistance Program—

Five procurement assistance units will be established at the state level to provide detailed information on federal procurement procedures, assistance in preparing and negotiating contracts and to help identify federal bidding specifications and requirements.

"We are dedicated to seeing that Illinois firms capture a greater share of federal contracts," Thompson said. "The Procurement Assistance Program will provide timely information and assistance to businesses pursuing government contracts. By creating these procurement centers, we also hope to make more Illinois small businesses aware that these contracts are available and that we can assist firms in meeting federal procurement requirements," he added.

Also, the governor will establish an Illinois Procurement Assistance Council with representatives from federal agencies—the SBA, the Department of Defense—the Illinois Congressional Delegation, Illinois prime contractors, small business owners, and others to advise and inform the state on procurement assistance to businesses.

Both the Small Business Development Center and the Business Procurement Assistance Program are part of the Governor's "Illinois Plan" whose first element was a program to provide long-term, fixed-rate financing to small businesses. The other two components of the "Illinois Plan" will provide capital development money for small to large businesses and "incubator" facilities and services for new businesses.

For more information on the programs, interested persons may call DCCA at 1-800-252-2923.

SEMC Hearing Center open at Ginger Creek

The Ginger Creek Hearing Center, an affiliate of St. Elizabeth Medical Center in Granite City, is now open to area residents.

Cheryl Siegel, director of audiology, said the center is not limited solely to the detection of hearing problems. As part of its program, the center also offers a hearing aid dispensing service and educational aids. Patients learn how the hearing process works and what hearing mechanisms are involved in their specific situation.

"Because of the many different causes of hearing loss," said Mrs. Siegel, "the center aims to provide individualized attention to each patient. Our goal is to make listening easier and communicating better."

A clinical audiologist certified by the American Speech and Hearing Association, the director received her bachelor of arts degree in speech pathology in 1972 and her master of science degree in audiology in 1977, both from Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville.

The center, located in the Glen-Ed Medical Park on Route 157 just south of the SIUE campus, is in the same office complex with Dr. Jeffrey Fierstein, an ear, nose and throat specialist.

Office hours are from 4 to 5 p.m. on Mondays and 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Wednesdays and Thursdays. For more information on the Ginger Creek Hearing Center, interested persons may call 798-3616.

SELF-EMPLOYED RETURN IF EARNINGS $400 OR MORE

Taxpayers who are self-employed must file a federal income tax return if they had net earnings from self-employment of $400 or more, the Internal Revenue Service says. Self-employed persons should use Schedule SE (Form 1041) to figure their self-employment tax. The self-employment tax rate for 1983 is 9.35 percent.

Self-employment applies to taxpayers who carry on a trade or business as a sole proprietor, a member of a partnership, or as an independent contractor. For more information, taxpayers may obtain free IRS Publication 533, "Self-Employment Tax," from area IRS offices or by writing to the IRS. In addition, many libraries carry a reference set of IRS publications.

1983 most profitable year for Madison County Federal

The year just over was the most profitable one in Madison County Federal Savings and Loan's 60-year history, president Paul Sodko reported at the association's annual meeting last week.

He said assets had increased by 11.6 percent, to $99,597,192, in 1983, and that savings deposits increased by 11.3 percent, to $91,725,578.

"AND WHILE many commercial banks and savings banks were experiencing problems with profitability, we enjoyed our most profitable year ever, earning almost $1.5 million," he said.

The association's reserves were increased to more than 4 percent, well above any suggested reserve figures set by governmental regulatory agencies, he added.

During the year, Sodko said, the savings and loan added discount brokerage service and within the next few days will make Master Card and Visa available to customers.

ONE OF THE highlights of 1983 was the opening of a new Madison County Federal Savings and Loan facility in Collinsville, Sodko said.

"Savings deposits in this branch increased well above our expectations. Steady and substantial growth has also been experienced in our offices in Glen Carbon and Troy, where we continue to make significant inroads in those market areas," he said.

Madison County Federal's main offices are in Granite City. Sodko said plan are now being completed for the building of a new office in Ginger Creek in the Edwardsville-Glen Carbon area to serve that rapidly-developing business and residential area.

MOST MARKET analysts are forecasting that the area surrounding this site will be one of the region's most rapidly expanding and burgeoning areas in the ensuing decade, he added.

He said Madison County Federal Savings and Loan will also be engaged in the development of a retail shopping center adjacent to the Ginger Creek facility.

"We will continue to complete, explore and pursue new acquisitions and mergers to make Madison County Federal an even more viable financial institution," Sodko told shareholders.

SODKO SAID 1983 had been an excellent year for Madison County Federal, and a turnaround year generally for savings institutions nationwide. The improved economy and changes granted by Congress in late 1982 accounted for this, he said.

The changes allowed savings and loans to offer a broader range of savings and investment plans. More choices are also available to mortgage borrowers.

Besides tractor accidents, other leading causes of farm accidents include machinery and truck accidents, which account for 29 percent, electrocution and other freak accidents accounting for seven percent, farm animals accounting for four percent, fire accounting for two percent and grain bin suffocation accounting for four percent.

Fifty-five percent of the deaths occurred in the 51-to 60-year-old age group. Slightly more than 16 percent of the deaths occurred in the 21 to 30 age group while nearly 13 percent occurred in the 31 to 50 age group. About 15 percent of the accidents occurred in the 20 and under age group.

Simon backs bills to protect public from repeat criminals

Americans are increasingly victims of a revolving door criminal justice system that fails to identify and incarcerate career criminals and then ignores the financial, physical and emotional plight of crime victims, U. S. Rep. Paul Simon (D-Makanda) said Thursday.

Simon called for passage of a series of bills pending before Congress, including one that has passed the House and now awaits action by the Senate, that would aid state and local officials in tracking and prosecuting career criminals and in providing assistance to local residents of violent crimes.

"Our criminal justice system does many things well," Simon said. "But it fails miserably in protecting the public against the violent repeat offenders who, despite frequent arrests and convictions, nonetheless manage to return to the streets to victimize the public again and again."

Although career criminals account for fewer than 10 percent of all people arrested, they are believed responsible for 70 percent of all offenses, he said. Moreover, recent FBI studies have discovered the existence of so-called "serial murderers," career killers who roam from state to state randomly murdering victims. A Senate committee investigating violent crime estimates that there were approximately 3,600 serial murders in 1981.

Simon said some of the blame for increases in crime must rest with the federal government, which has increasingly shifted responsibility for anti-crime efforts to financially-strapped state and local governments.

"Local officials are struggling against crime with fewer and fewer financial resources," Simon said. "But the Reagan administration has proposed massive cuts in law enforcement assistance programs, promising only to use the 'bully pulpit' of the presidency to remind the public of the seriousness of the crime problem. The 20 million Americans who have been victims of crime need no such empty reminders."

Simon said the Senate should move swiftly to enact the Justice Assistance Act, which has already cleared the House. The Act would provide matching grants for a series of programs designed to target the tracking, prosecution and incarceration of repeat offenders, or "career" criminals.

Simon said that, although authorities in some areas have established career criminal programs, they lack access to complete crime records hinders efforts to identify suspects as career criminals or possible serial killers. Cook County, for example, which last year began computerizing criminal records on an on-going basis, has not been able to undertake the massive task of computerizing past year's criminal records because of lack of funds.

In addition, Simon said, local law enforcement efforts are typically, limited by the amount of information available about crimes committed by career criminals in other states and cities.

The Justice Assistance Act would provide grants to state and local authorities to computerize criminal records and establish computer networks designed to store, retrieve and share information about the prior criminal activity of repeat offenders. Simon said the legislation would ensure that career criminals arrested in Illinois would be swiftly identified and prosecuted under the tougher programs reserved for repeat offenders.

Simon said the act also would help states and cities establish special programs to combat juvenile crime, develop undercover "sting" operations and subsidize the cost of new prisons.

Simon also said he is co-sponsoring legislation designed to supplement and expand state programs for victim assistance as well.

"Although we cannot always find and incarcerate violent criminals, we can help victims of crime who are too often abused twice, first by their assailant and second by a criminal justice system incapable of providing necessary support services," Simon said.

Simon's legislation would help pay for the cost of hospitalization, medical expenses, lost wages, mental health counseling and other expenses incurred by victims of violent crimes.

A related bill would aid states and communities in establishing shelters for victims of domestic violence.

SPECIAL EDUCATION. To aid children's special classes in this community, a $5,000 check is presented by Eagles Aerie 1126. David Partney (left), president of the Granite City Board of Education, is shown with Donald Gray, Eagles' treasurer and chairman of the Jimmy Durante charitable fund. Funds raised by Aerie 1126 from several projects are forwarded to the national Durante program, which then allocates contributions here and across the nation, including $240,000 in Illinois. County board preparing for weatherization

With the Economic Opportunity Commission currently immobilized by fund misuse allegations, the Madison County Board voted unanimously last week to seek bids on materials needed for a weatherization program, one of the EOC's past projects.

Weatherization involves insulation and improvement of low-income families' homes to make them more energy-efficient.

Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer said the county has not yet been named to sponsor the program but that he expects such a designation soon. The board agreed that preparations should proceed.

The state's Department of Commerce and Community Affairs said the county government is the only agency that has acted to take over weatherization.

A DCCA inspection in 1983 showed homes were not being repaired in conformity with state-federal specifications, and an audit revealed other problems in administrative actions by the EOC.

FILE DUI CHARGE AGAINST VAN DRIVER

William R. Metz, 37, of 2408 Glen Place, was charged with driving under the influence of alcohol following an accident last week in which his van allegedly struck the station wagon of Edward L. Hall, parked outside his home at 2328 Iowa St. He was released after posting a $102 cash bond.

FIND STOLEN VEHICLE

A 1982 GMC Caballero reported stolen Jan. 5 in Sunset Hills, Mo., was recovered last week in a Granite City steel parking lot off Lee Avenue. The vehicle's door lock and ignition had been punched, reports said.

Deduct real estate taxes on state income tax return

By SAM WOLF
State Representative

Yes, it is that time again. The Illinois Income Tax Returns (Form 1040) are now available from the Department of Revenue, local post offices, and state office buildings.

For the first time, IL-1040 is two pages long.

This year, there are two major additions to the forms. On line 4-A homeowners may now deduct their property taxes from their income tax. On line 12, taxpayers now have the opportunity to "check-off" up to $10 from their refund for three state-wide programs.

The property tax deduction is similar to that of the federal deduction. Homeowners may elect to deduct property taxes on their principal place of residence.

Additional property tax deductions must be figured in accordance with the worksheet on Page 2 of the 1040.

The new check-offs may need a little more explanation. Before we talk about what they are, I'd like to share with you the "why" of the check-offs.

State funding of numerous programs has been severely jeopardized in the last few years by the economic resource shifts in Illinois, the recession and, ultimately, the "new federalism."

Monies once available through grants, federally funded programs, and other resources have been cut back in actual dollars available to the states. A good example of this is child abuse, where monies were available to states from several agency programs.

The new burden on states has been increased through the simple fact that states are living on less income, less resources and a continued need for programs.

It is becoming more difficult for agencies and interest groups to approach the Illinois General Assembly for continued or new funding of programs.

Some of these programs are necessary services from the states—like child abuse. The lack of intervention by the state in a child abuse case may mean no tomorrow for some child in Illinois.

Thus, sponsors of the programs are hoping that Illinois taxpayers will feel strongly enough about these programs to voluntarily add their support by a check-off from their income tax refund.

On line 12 of your IL-1040, you have the opportunity to check-off up to $10 on any or all of the following programs:

1. The first program is the Illinois Veterans Home Fund. Contributions for this program will go to maintenance and expansion of the 855-bed facility in Quincy and the construction of a new facility in Manteno for veterans.

While we, as a state, are particularly good at praise and rhetoric for our veterans, actual state dollars for those veterans who need care is far less than the amount needed.

2. The second program is a check-off for the Illinois Non-Game Wildlife Conservation Fund.

This fund is to support conservation efforts for some of Illinois' endangered species, such as the bald eagle, bobcat and barn owl.

Since much of Southern Illinois looks to tourism as a source of income, building up our game and non-game populations is important.

However, it is doubtful that state funds for such a program will be available in the next few years.

3. The last check-off program is the Child Abuse Prevention Fund. While the department of Children and Family Services has an active intervention program, Illinois is sorely lacking in facilities, treatment and expansion of programs.

Until additional funds are available, support programs for sexually abused children and their families will not be a reality.

Although few of us, as would not prioritize child abuse programs in the bid for state funds, we must remember that such programs come with education, mental health transportation and a variety of other "essential" state programs.

Is there a danger in check-offs? Yes. As we seek to find alternate sources of funds for everything from day care to museums, the check-off program can be abused.

Communities and organizations may begin looking to refund check-offs as the answer to all funding programs. It is not the answer.

Our state must continue to struggle with its budget and insure that priorities for state programs are established.

Many state programs must have a more stable source of revenue than a check-off system. Unless this prioritization happens, someday we may see 124-Education on our forms.

If you have any questions regarding your income taxes, call the Taxpayers Information Division at 217-782-3336 or 312-641-2150.

Additional tax forms are available from the Illinois Department of Revenue, P.O. Box 3545, Springfield, Ill. 62708.

SHOOTS INTO RESIDENCE
A vandal fired a shot into a rear door at the home of Venice Alderman Phillip Daniels in the 200 block of Abbott Street, Venice, last week. The projectile went into the kitchen wall, he told police. Neighbors reported hearing a shot fired and dogs began barking in the neighborhood. It was noted.

SIUE 'Goshen Ocean' gives coeds break from winter blahs

The "Goshen Ocean" will return to Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Thursday, Jan. 26, when the Student Program Board (SPB) will transport 15 tons of sand to transform the sunken Goshen Lounge in the University Center, into a beach.

Mark Rimus, SPB coordinator of special events, said the beach idea was so successful when it was done previously in 1980 that SPB decided to repeat it. Rimus said the "Goshen Ocean" will offer a "taste of Daytona" to students, staff and everyone to beat the winter blahs that occur during the winter school quarter.

CONTESTS TO be conducted on the "beach" include: Mr. Muscle Man, Tacky Tourist, volleyball and sand-castle building. The "beach" will be open from 10:30 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Featured on the Boardwalk will be video games, table tennis, a frisbee toss, caricatures, photographs, as well as a sailboat and life guard stand. Concessions will be provided by University Food Service with hot dogs, popcorn and soft drinks.

Beach activities will open at 10:30 a.m. Thursday with volleyball games and sunbathing beds. At 11 a.m., the band Bosch, Stonebreaker and Lake, will perform. A sand-castle building contest begins at 11:30 a.m.

GIRL WATCHERS, boy watchers and people watchers will be given time to look at the activities continue. At 11:45 a.m., a sexy swimmer contest will be conducted, a tacky tourist contest will begin at noon and a muscle man contest will start at 12:15 p.m.

Campus store expansion makes book shopping easy

Buying books at Belleville area College is easier than ever, thanks to expansion of the campus store. Textbooks are housed in the new addition to the store, so students have to make just one stop. Books were housed in three locations before the addition opened.

"So far, it's working beautifully," said Bookstore Manager Jeanne Ruffner. The store is doing the usual volume of business, but without long lines, she said.

THE EXPANSION also makes the store easier for students to use. Merchandise is clearly displayed in wide aisles, which make the store more accessible to handicapped students.

In addition to textbooks the Campus Store carries a full line of class supplies, paperback books for leisure reading and college insignia clothing. The bookstore is at the main campus, 2500 Carlyle Road, Belleville.

Quad Club buys Sedlack funeral home

The former Sedlack Funeral Home building, located at 615 Madison Ave., Madison, has been purchased by the Quad Club, an organization which has been working with recovering alcoholic and drug-related victims and their families for the past 10 years.

Presently located at 1421 Nineteenth St., (the former Salvation Army Citadel), the Quad Club purchased the larger facility to accommodate more people who attend meetings, seminars and special guest speakers, a spokesman for the group said.

AT THE PRESENT time, the Quad Club holds eight or 10 meetings during a week-long span with some sessions during the day and others scheduled for the evening.

Each member and family has daily access to the facility to attend sessions designed to coordinate with their daily life and to continue the rehabilitation program.

Although the organization has been working in this area for 10 years, it has become active in fund-raising events during the past two years. Each Sunday night, the group sponsors bingo games in Venice and with this money, they also donate funds to other recovery groups in the area, the spokesman explained.

THE OWNER, Mrs. Louise Sedlack, and the buyers expect to sign the final papers during the weekend and the anticipated move is tentatively expected to take place during the first part of April.

Although the sale is on a contract-for-deed basis the selling price was not disclosed.

Mrs. Sedlack said she sold the property on the condition that Randall Irwin can continue to use it until his funeral home at 2801 Madison Ave. is completely renovated and ready to use. Repairs are underway, at Irwin's chapel for funerals, since the fire that swept through the back section of the Granite City location and caused smoke, fire and water damage.

Peggy Hodge serves as president of the Quad Club, but a member is there during the daytime for anyone who chooses to seek help or advice.

QUAD-CITY area residents interested in further information in conjunction with the program are advised to call a new 876-9287, the spokesman noted.

Red Bud will be site of BAC's southern center

Red Bud will be the home of Belleville Area College's southern extension center.

In a unanimous vote last week, the BAC Board of Trustees chose the Randolph County Community as the site for a 12,000-square-foot center. It will bring classes closer to residents in the southern portion of the college district.

The city of Red Bud and private donors from the community joined forces to offer the college $1 million in funding for the center.

Also in the offer is a 10-acre tract of land at the end of Fourth Street between St. Clement's Hospital and Red Bud Community High School.

The proposal earmarks $750,000 for the building and $250,000 for site improvements, including utilities, roads and parking lots.

A target date for opening the center has not been set, but college officials are looking to the 1984-85 school year.

Red Bud was chosen as the home to the southern center after almost a year of study by a task force of the BAC board.

That committee, which was chaired by Trustee Patricia Bartokas of Belleville, considered proposals from Sparta, Marissa, Ellis Grove and Red Bud before recommending Red Bud.

The Red Bud proposal offered

"the most attractive convenient location as well as the best financing," Mrs. Bartokas said. Other members of the task force included Trustees Curt Eckert and Wayne Reynolds of Belleville and Elizabeth Jenner of Mascoutah.

BAC will rent the facility from Red Bud for $35,000 per year. College officials will work with those from Red Bud to design the building, which is expected to serve 1,500 students when at full capacity.

Business courses and freshman-level university transfer courses will be taught at the center, BAC President Bruce R. Wissore said. The college also has been asked to look into offering agriculture classes in Red Bud, he said.

The college began discussing the need for the center when a study showed that the percentage of high school graduates attending BAC decreased the farther they lived from the Belleville campus. While 40 percent of Belleville graduates attended the college, only 10 percent of those from Chester or Granite City attended.

"As we moved out from the main campus, we found attendance in both the northern and southern portions of our district dropping," Dr. Wissore said. "We answered the problem in the north with Granite City Center and now we're looking south to Red Bud."

Granite City Center opened during the fall of 1983. Approximately 2,000 students enrolled there during the first semester.

The Red Bud center will serve residents of Red Bud, Sparta, Chester, Steeleville, Waterloo, Ellis Grove, Coulterville and other Randolph County, Monroe and Washington county communities. It also will help alleviate crowding at the main campus, Dr. Wissore said.

Smith Corp. to be supplier

A.O. Smith Corporation has been notified that it has been selected as a major supplier of a non-passenger car structural assembly that will mean a substantial increase in sales. This could occur as early as 1986.

Thomas I. Dolan, president and chief executive officer, said that when full production is under way, annual volume will exceed $100 million, of which $50 million will be new business.

Dolan said that when the new project is formalized, and together with other new business the company has obtained in recent years, A.O. Smith's current passenger frame business will have been substantially replaced.

Full separate passenger car frames were originally scheduled to phase out of automobiles this year, but car makers have extended the life of separate frames through mid-1987.

There are some indications that passenger car frames may be used even longer, according to industry publications.

"This is very important to us," Dolan said, "since production of this new product line will get under way as our current passenger frame business may be phasing out."

"In addition, past programs of this type generally have had a life of 10 years, which means we can plan our automotive business with a greater degree of certainty than was the case a year or two ago."

Smith has been a supplier of auto mobile and truck frames since the early part of this century and automotive structural products represent more than half of this company's annual sales.

The current automotive product line includes full separate passenger car frames for General Motors, rear trailing axles for GM and Chrysler, and truck frames or structural components for GM, Chrysler, Ford and most major truck builders.

Paul J. Kemp, president of the A.O. Smith Automotive Products

Company, said the new product line is to be produced in the company's Milwaukee facilities, where both passenger car frames and truck frames are now manufactured.

He does not anticipate that the potential new business would produce new jobs, since employees working in passenger frame manufacturing could be shifted to the new production.

Charles Hyster, 20, of 226 Kerr St., Venice, was booked by Granite City and Madison police departments on multiple traffic charges, including driving under the influence of alcohol, in the aftermath of two accidents in which his auto allegedly was involved at 3:15 a.m. today.

Reports alleged that Hyster's car was fishtailing on the icy pavement while traveling south in the 1900 block of Madison Avenue and struck a telephone pole.

The driver continued on, hitting a truck route sign, a 1977 Chrysler parked at Woodrome Oldsmobile, 2200 Madison Ave., and then struck a second telephone pole before leaving the scene, Granite City police reports contained.

At Madison Avenue and 8th Street, Hyster's vehicle again slid on the ice covered roadway and struck three parked vehicles in the White Auto Sales lot at 801 Madison Ave.

The driver was stopped at 8th Street and Grand Avenue by Madison officers and was released to the Granite City police department.

Hyster agreed to take a breathalyzer test and was charged by Granite City with DUI, not having a valid driver's license, driving too far for conditions and injury to city property.

Madison charged the Venice resident with leaving the scene of an accident, not having a valid license and driving too fast for conditions.

County department heads reappointed

The Madison County Board reappointed 14 department heads and approved their salaries for fiscal 1984 last week.

Because of the austere budget the county passed in December, the department heads will receive the same salaries they earned during fiscal 1983, said finance committee chairman Bill Little, Alton. The year begins Dec. 1 and ends Nov. 30.

Salaries for the 14 department heads totaled just under $355,000. The average annual income for each department head is $25,363.

County director of administration Mary Kane will receive the largest salary, $29,401, followed by employment and training administrator Dan Churovich, $30,062.

The other department heads and salaries are: Paul Morrison, data processing director, $29,980; Rita Keene, safety and insurance coordinator, $29,034; Cheryl Joubert, community development coordinator, $26,257.

Thurl Jones, probations and court services director, $26,433; Arthur Lindsey, veterans' assistance superintendent, $19,304; Bill Rainwater, nursing home administrator, $24,484.

Paul Hawkins, zoning and building administrator, $29,712; Lois Schneider, tuberculosis clinic administrator, $27,715; Ed Harris, Emergency Services and Disasters Agency, $23,492; Elizabeth Agles, shelter care home administrator, $21,064; Gene Puteh, special services area superintendent, $29,765; and Roger Delmour, license investigator, $19,103.

Meanwhile, county officials and sheriff deputies admit they have been optimistic before settling on their 11-week-old contract dispute, but there was renewed optimism of a breakthrough again during the County Board meeting at the courthouse.

Both sides had met in a negotiating session Tuesday, and a proposal from the deputies' union was presented to the board during a closed session Wednesday.

The board did not take action on the proposal, but county negotiating chairman Herbert "Junior" Milon, Granite City, said talks will continue soon.

The board's consideration of the proposal was a hopeful sign that a settlement may be near, deputies said.

"At least they didn't reject it out of hand," said the deputies spokesman, L. Conrad. "I understand, the county thinks what I understand is something that can be lived with."

Baetz said the deputies' union, Operating Engineers Local 520-C, made the proposal following "another unacceptable offer" from the county.

Baetz said the union's proposal, if accepted by the county, would still have to be ratified by the union members before a new pact is signed between the two parties.

Deputies have been working without a contract since the old one expired. Given that length of time, Baetz said, he believes the membership would ratify its current proposal.

The union is not asking for a wage increase, but wants the county to pay about $30,000 to cover its increased insurance premiums. The new union proposal would have both sides incurring some of the costs.

The union's prior offer, which suggested that the county use interest for its working cash fund to pay for the insurance increases, was criticized Wednesday by several board members.

Finance chairman Little presented a graph to the board which illustrated the county's reliance on the working cash fund.

Little said the fund currently has about $1.2 million, which must be used to lend money to various departments and to meet the county's payroll.

STATE TROOPER TO SPEAK AT ROTARY CLUB LUNCHEON

A representative of the Illinois State Police will discuss recent legislation concerning child safety seats and driving under the influence of alcohol or drugs. The talk will be to the Madison-Venice Rotary Club meeting this Wednesday. The lunch will begin at 12:15 p.m. at the Madison Recreation Center, Seventh Street and Lee Avenue, Madison. The general public is being invited to attend the lecture, which should begin at 12:30 p.m.

THE CENTRAL Illinois Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation is inviting those wishing to learn more about arthritis to attend a meeting at 9:45 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 26, at the Red Cross Building, 2100 Edison Ave. The program will feature a taped interview with Dr. Edward Rose, rheumatologist from Belleville.

Citizen involvement

THE GRANITE CITY Citizens' Forum will meet Monday, Jan. 23, at 7 p.m. at the Harold Brown Recreation Center, Franklin and Amos avenues. The public is being invited.

Stephanie Mills at Fox

Singer Stephanie Mills will repeat her Broadway role of Dorothy, when "The Wiz" is presented at the Fox Theatre on Feb. 7 to 12.

The performance will be in cooperation with The Mundy. Performance times are 8 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday and 7 p.m. on Sunday, with 2 p.m. matinees Saturday and Sunday.

APARTMENT BURGLARY

Shoes, infant's clothing, kitchenware and two rings with a total value of $191, belonging to Becky Ellis, 2206 Grand Ave., were among the items stolen from an apartment at 1716 Cleveland Blvd., which she was vacating, Mrs. Ellis reported at 1 p.m. Friday.

WEAPON IS MISSING

A .38-caliber five-shot weapon, a black holster and speed clip, valued at $252, were stolen from the pickup truck of Jim Kostoff, 2728 Harding Blvd., while the vehicle was parked outside Central Hardware in Crossroads Plaza Shopping Center at 5 p.m. Friday.

"The Wiz" is an updated version of the movie classic "The Wizard of Oz." In this version, Dorothy finds herself in a strange world of flashing lights, dancing poppies and "funky monkeys." A cast of 28 will be featured with Miss Mills. Selections from the production include "Ease on Down the Road," "Soon as I Get Home," "Everybody Rejoice" and "If You Believe." Tickets prices range from $4.00 to $18.00, depending on seat location and time of performance. Those interested in further information may call 334-367-9696.

Old Six Mile hears of January yule customs in Macedonia

Christmas used to be celebrated in January by Macedonian people, Tamesa Kirchhoff told members of the Old Six Mile Historical Society. Parts of her talk follow.

"What I have to present comes from some of my experience with customs we practice in America and from many things I recall from conversations with my parents and other elders in the community concerning ancient folklore of Macedonia. I was a very young child when my family immigrated to this country during the time most of the Macedonians of Granite City and Madison settled here between the years 1900 and 1920. So my impressions are based upon the knowledge of traditions as passed down from one generation to the next.

"Like most ethnic groups, we brought to this country with us our culture and religious heritage. For us, Christmas and Easter are especially rich with meaning. Some festivals and customs, which in the old country united the people as one family, to some degree, were abandoned in America because they were not suited to American life, but in our homes and churches, we reproduce many old world customs and rites and try to bring to our American children a realization of beauty and spirit of our religious heritage. I think that, in many ways, the Christmas tradition becomes even more beautiful, as gradually all our foreign traditions are woven in American life.

"Briefly, I would like to mention something about the ethnic character of Macedonia, since this is a question I am frequently asked, and also because it has some bearing upon our customs and traditions. In the minds of many people, Macedonia exists only in the pages of history books with thoughts of Alexander the Great of Macedonia conquering the world, or Apostle Paul and his letters to the Thessalonians, or Macedonia embraced by the Roman Empire.

"It is indeed a land rich in ancient history. The ancient populations which existed during that period, in the course of time began to disappear. They were assimilated by the invading tribes of Slavs from the North and, for over 1,300 years, the predominant inhabitants are the Macedonian Slavs of Bulgarian descent.

"There is a minority population of Greeks, Romanians and Albanians in Macedonia and also a small number of Turks who remain following 500 years of Turkish rule.

With this brief account of the ethnic makeup of this ancient Balkan land, you can easily see how we are related to the Slavs of Central and Eastern Europe and how our customs, traditions and language and religion are similar if not the same. We have many traditions in common with the Greeks and Romans as well. We are Eastern Orthodox Christians and our church affiliations are made on an ethnic basis.

"In Eastern Orthodox tradition, Easter is the most highly observed feast day with great pageantry and ritual. Christmas religious observance is less ceremonial celebration of the liturgy at Christmas Eve, but with joyful expression of festivities surrounding the family and the community. These celebrations are closely tied to the New Year celebration as well.

"Centuries ago, much emphasis was placed upon ancient rites which dates back to pre-Christian years, therefore the Christmas celebration becomes an ever-shifting blend of old customs whose rites were absorbed to have Christian meaning. As a result, some of the ancient customs survived as cherished Christmas traditions of today.

"Although the established date of the Nativity is December 25, most Eastern Orthodox Christians throughout the centuries have followed the Gregorian calendar and observe Christmas on January 6, thirteen days later. Some Orthodox churches in this country have begun to celebrate it on Dec. 25, which seems to fit in better with American life.

"Our religious celebrations begin with 40 days of fasting before Christmas. In the early days, the fast was strictly observed with no meat or dairy products permitted, so one can be prepared to receive Communion on Christmas Eve. Today, there are Macedonians in this community who still observe the 40 day fast period, even though it is now permissible to shorten it to three days.

"Preparing the household for Christmas is a joyful ceremony. Although customs are generally the same, they may vary slightly from village to village. According to the folklore, the young boys accompany the father to the forest, where a small oak tree is selected and chopped down and cut into logs for the Christmas fire, similar to the yule logs of other cultures. A touch of superstition surrounds this procedure. It is said the tree must fall towards the east, for only then it brings good luck to the household.

"The log-bearers are greeted at the home by the Baba, grandmother, with a large round loaf of pure wheat bread called the Pogacha. This is a centuries-old tradition practiced by many people of Central and Eastern Europe. The Pogacha is prepared with special care and the charming custom is to bake a small silver coin in the bread. Sometimes it is decorated with designs representing the family occupation, such as lambs and other animals for shepherds, and oxen or plows for the farmers. This is done with hope that the Pogacha will bring good luck to the family and its occupation.

"The Christmas Eve feast table is carefully set with the Pogacha, fruits, candles, wine and incense. A vacant chair is set for the Christ child or for the poor. The eldest in the family leads the prayers and incenses the entire house for the season's blessing. Then, in time honored tradition, breaks bread with the family. The first four pieces are set aside, one for the Christ child, one for the Virgin Mary, one for the household and one for the poor. The rest is distributed to all the family and he who has the piece with the silver coin will be the one to have good fortune in the new year. Sometimes the coin is then placed by the family icon, where it remains until the following year.

"The Macedonian women are known to be fine cooks and many special delicacies and sweets are prepared for the holiday. The pastry which is made of walnuts and wrapped in thin leaf dough and sweetened with syrup symbolizes the swaddling clothes in which the Christ child was wrapped. In the ancient Macedonian home, it is said that on Christmas Eve, straw is scattered on the floor and into every corner of the room were placed a few nuts... indicating that Christ comes to every part of the world.

"In the dark of the night on Christmas Eve, a huge bonfire is built in the village square to light up the sky, for Christ is a new beginning and a new light of the world.

"Another charming custom of caroling is practiced early at dawn on Christmas day. This is called Koleda. Groups of children go from house to house singing songs and reciting poetry. The Baba of the house rewards the children with nuts and fruits and, perhaps coins, which they carry in colorful woven shoulder bags. This delightful custom was even practiced by my children and their friends when they were young. After visiting the many Macedonian houses in the community early on the morning of Jan. 6, they would come home and prepare bell rang at eight.

"Christmas season is concluded with the celebration of Epiphany... and this has great significance for Orthodox Christians. It is known as the blessing of the water. 'Epiphany' in Greek means to show forth. This refers to the first showing of Christ's divinity to the three Kings. It also represents the use of water at the baptism of Christ in the River of Jordan and the use of water which was turned to wine at the wedding feast of Cana. 'The tradition of blessing each house with Holy water is practiced today. The parish priest visits the home and sprinkles every room with Holy water from Basil leaves dipped in the water.

"In the old country and in many communities in America, there is still celebrated an important ceremony which is a procession of the congregation to the water front, led by the priest or bishop dressed in magnificent vestments and holding a crucifix. The parishioners follow behind like sheep following the shepherd.

"He intones a prayer and hurls the cross into the water. From the shore of the bank, the young boys dive into the water to retrieve the cross. He who retrieves it is specially blessed and honored.

"I have witnessed this ceremony many times as a very young girl. This is no longer practiced in this community.

"As you can see, our religious heritage is rich with symbolism. Some of our customs may appear strangely different than your own. Despite the differences in ceremony and language, the beauty of the universal Christmas Spirit is the same," she said.

Three lives lost in GC traffic accidents in '83

There were three fatal accidents in Granite City during 1983, three times the sole fatality within the city limits during 1982, according to the annual report issued by the Granite City Police Department. They were among 10 fatal accidents in 1983 reported by the Press-Record from throughout the entire Quad-City area or involving Quad-City area people.

The number of auto accidents in the city changed little from 1982 to 1983 as there were 1,244 accidents reported in the city limits last year, up only two from the 1982. Of last year's accidents in the city, 280 involved injuries, down from 288 in the previous year. A total of 416 persons were injured in last year's accidents within the Granite City limits, up from 367 injured during 1982.

Property damage accidents not involving injuries increased from 1,053 in the city in 1982 to 1,061 last year in the city.

There were 358 injury accidents reported in the Press-Record during 1983 for all of the Quad-City area. The GC's annual report also showed that 4,694 traffic arrests occurred during 1983, up from 3,862 arrests during all of 1982. The total number of charges of all types filed by the police during 1983 hit 8,699, well above the 6,074 total charges during 1982.

Local farmers selected to serve on ASCS committee

The local farmers of Madison County elected members of their townships to serve on the Madison County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Community Committees. From Chouteau and Nameoki Townships, elected members included Chairman Richard C. Bauer, Vice Chairman Charles C. Losch, Member David H. Mueller, First Alternate Leonard W. Schaefer and Second Alternate Leroy E. Schaefer.

These elected committee members aid the local ASCS office in the administration of federal farm programs, such as the Payment-In-Kind Program, through the performance of several functions.

One of the most important functions the community committee performs, is that of attending an annual convention to elect one member annually to the county committee. The county committee consists of three local farmers, who can each serve three, three-year terms, with one member coming up for re-election each year.

The county committee, consisting of Chairman Delbert Essenspies of Helvetia Township, Vice Chairman Vincent Hess of Martine Township and Member Albert Brandt of Alhambra Township are responsible for administering assigned ASCS programs. They are charged with the responsibility of making sure that the county office operations are farmer-oriented and that farmers receive good service.

17-year-old charged in theft at retail store

James Cortez, 17, Brooklyn, was arrested by Venice police last week and charged with retail theft, obstruction of justice and resisting arrest.

According to police reports, Green was observed by the owner of Rite Store, 420 Broadway, Venice, taking a pack of cream cheese and cookies.

Green allegedly walked passed the checkout lanes without paying, but once outside, the owner stopped him. At that time, Green said he was 14 years old and his parents were not at home. Green was advised by police that he was under arrest. He allegedly had to be taken forcibly. Once Green arrived at the police station, Green again stated he was only 14 years old.

Green's mother was contacted and his real age was discovered. He was released on a $2,000 bond.

MAN VIOLATES RULING

Glen Carl Dixon, 49, was charged with disorderly conduct and a violation of an order of protection when he allegedly was observed banging on windows at 1115 Greenwood St. A court order bars him from setting foot on the property and from harassing the residents, authorities said. Dixon was transferred to the Madison County Jail.
